Walter and Wilimena Woodman.

Walter and Wilimena Woodman live in the hearts of every Greenwood student as the image of the typical student.

The image took form over a thick and zesty pizza at Noble Romans over Christmas vacation during one of the many year-book work sessions there. As the ideas about Walter and Wilimena were tossed around, they took shape, were involved in school activities, became typical students going to class, eating in the cafeteria, playing sports and having a good time. They were members of the marching Woodmen, wrestled in the State Finals, won Scholastic Awards, went to Florida over Spring Break (leaving three days early), sweated through Research Paper, collected senior name-cards, cut out for lunch, and were detained after school for "personal contact" in the halls.

Because they represent the typical Greenwood student, Walter and Wilimena will tell the story of this year. We hope Walter and Wilimena continue to live in the hearts of GCHS students as the typical student.

And now here is our story . . .

THINGS DO NOT CHANGE

Things do not change
because of accident or war.
Man isn't altered
(at least not rearranged)
by man himself.

It's not as easy
as all that.
More complicated
with more complications
man changes
and is changed
by something else.

Whatever you believe or see,
whatever horoscope you read whatever bible you consult God's own ancient diary or the one you've written for yourself,
no stars, no sages
and no sayings change us.

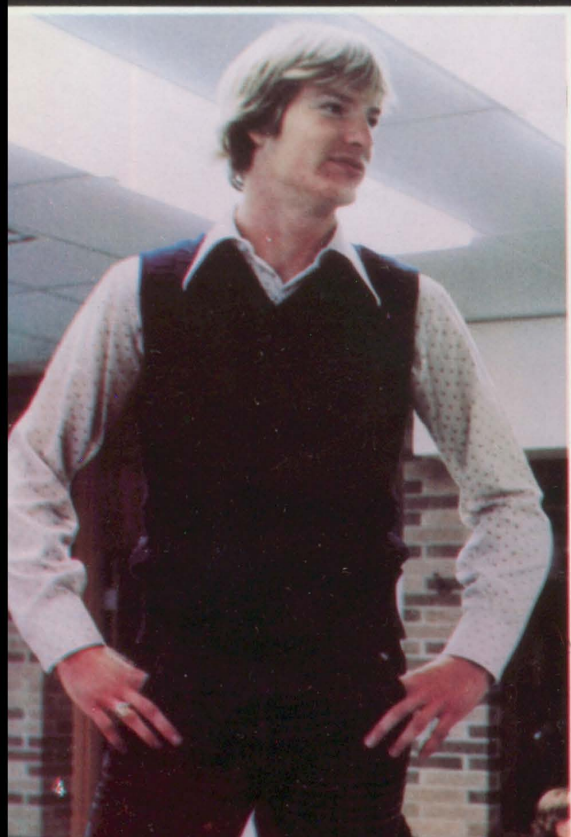

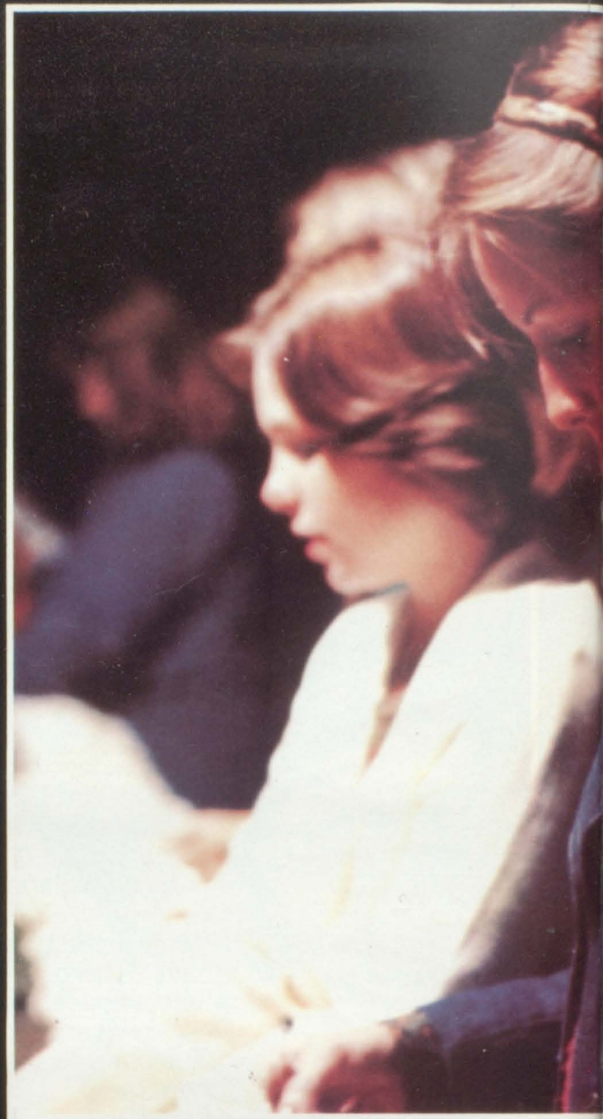

What then?
What makes us turn?
I don't know.
I've tried them all
and I don't know.

But I do know
there are accidents
planned or perpetrated
that come upon us
like an early fog
and make a difference.

If that fog would last
or was predictable
then any change
could last
or be controlled.

Homecoming sets pace

Both the football team and the basketball team won their homecoming games this year. The successful football homecoming included pep sessions, a parade, and class floats. The sophomore class won the float competition and during halftime festivities Liza Scotten was crowned queen. During Basketball homecoming Brian Malson was made king and Heidi Romeril was crowned queen. Hall competitions, a pep session, and class contests helped boost school spirit during this time. The great success of both homecomings was due to the work of the student council, teachers who sponsored classes, and the following Booster Club officers: DeDe

Cathcart, Bobby Harris, Marica Long, Freda Copley, Bill Cannon, Paula Meyer, and Jim Wheat. The homecomings also turned out to be successful for the teams as the football team defeated Speedway and the basketball team beat Beech Grove.

'Mac' writes plays

A children's play written by David McFadzean, stage director, with music scored by Middle School band director, Dan Rice, was performed by a student cast of eighteen aspiring actors in early December. Based on the fairy tale, "The Emperor's New Clothes", and carrying the same title, it was performed once at the high school before touring to each of the three local elementary schools, where it was viewed by over one thousand children. All the props were built by the tech crew with assistance from Mr. McFadzean, who, along with Liz McFadzean, designed all the costumes and the setting.

S-P-I-R-I-T

76-77 was not a year for lack of spirit at GCHS. The Booster Club and the Cheerleaders pulled together and really got things going in pep sessions. The student body also had something to do with the spirit shown in pep sessions. The pep sessions presented a variety of things to watch, including traditional class competitions and skits done by various groups.

Madrigals ring in Christmas

To enhance the Christmas spirit and provide a different type of entertainment for the community, the music department presented its third annual Madrigal Dinner. Dressed in costumes from the period of Elizabeth I, the singers sang traditional Elizabethan songs while the audience dined on roast beef and wassail punch. The singers were Phil Heebner, Sam Hodson, Duane Waite, Craig Ware, Chuck Atkinson, John Brinkman, Bob Dietrich, John Waite, Elaina Duvall, Karen Everett, Paula Meyer, Cindy Schier, Jill Williams, Cheri Hudson, Terri Hulett, and Ruth Hurst. Mr. Ron Bell instructed and directed the singers.

Christmas traditions

Students followed the traditions of Christmas by both giving and celebrating. A Christmas dance and a Madrigal dinner provided the celebration, while giving consisted of providing food baskets for the needy. Other aspects of Christmas were also observed with trees and lights which decorated the student rug and many classrooms.

"Mattress" a success

"Many Moons Ago" in a medieval castle set the stage for the spring musical, "Once Upon A Mattress". Narrated by a minstrel, played by John Waite, the musical comedy was the story of a search to find a suitable princess to marry Prince Dauntless, who was played by Quintin Steiff. Melody Nay portrayed Dauntless' mother, the Queen, who was married to the silent King, played by Bob Dietrich. Cindy Ripperger made her musical debut as Princess Winnifred who passed the test and was declared a suitable bride for Dauntless. Other students who participated in the production were Evan Kenyon, Sir Harry; Jill Williams, Lady Larken; and Duane Waite, the Jester. Mr. Ron Bell, choir director, served as the musical director, and he was assisted by technical and stage director, Mr. David McFadzean. Sheryl Rivers and Greg Manning provided piano for rehearsal assistance. Other students helped make the spring musical a success by building the set, playing in the orchestra, singing in the chorus, and acting in the cast.

"Over the Rainbow"

The Senior Prom took place on May 14 at Franklin College. The theme was "Somewhere Over the Rainbow", and the song of the same title was sung by Jill Williams. "Third Generation" provided the rest of the music. Janet Hommell and Bill Cannon were crowned Queen and King, and Valerie Williams and Larry Webster were made Princess and Prince. Following the prom, a post prom party was held at the Baxter YMCA. It was the work of Junior Class President, Julie Cardwell, along with Dick Dhondt, Erin Chamberlin, and Cindy Carson, that helped make the prom so successful.

Fads invade GCHS

Fads during the 1976-77 school year included rubber masks, not just at Halloween, gaucho pant, high boots, and new rock groups.

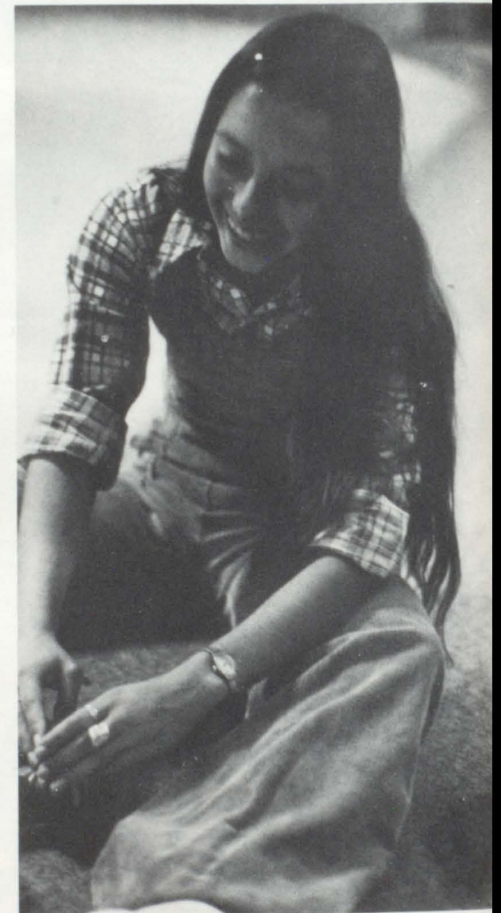

The fad that never changes is going out to lunch and not getting caught. McDonalds was the most popular spot. And after the game it was Pizza Hut.

Movies caught our attention with "King Kong", "Star Is Born" and "Rocky". Some saw them once and others sat through them time and time again.

Fleetwood Mac, Jefferson Star Ship, and Spinners made it big on the rock music scene. Concerts were big for entertainment on weekends.

And if you can't read this, try the big glasses fad.

"To accomplish great things"

"To accomplish great things, we must not only act but also dream, not only plan but also believe" was the motto for the Class of 1977. The Commencement Exercises were held on May 25, 1977 in the gymnasium. Mark A. Veach, president of the class, welcomed everyone, and David Blemker and Brad Loveall said the Invocation and Benediction. Brian Salwowski gave the Salutatory Address and the Valedictory Address was given by Gayle McMahan. Dr. Earl Blemker, Superintendent of Greenwood schools, presented the diplomas to the graduating seniors, who were then given a yellow rose, the class flower.

Problem solving

Solving friction problems in Physics, dissecting fetal pigs in Biology, and mixing acids and bases together in Chemistry were some of the ways in which students learned by doing in science. The courses offered ranged from Biology to Physics and included a new course, Advanced Chemistry, which students requested.

Math

From Pre-Algebra to Calculus, math students learned quickly to solve many assorted problems. The Math Department offered a wide range of courses including Algebra, Analytical Geometry, and Calculus for the college-bound student, and Business Mathematics and Computer Math for the business student. Either way, the students learned quickly how to solve problems of both a hypothetical and practical nature.

TOP: Debbie takes an Algebra test. MIDDLE: Mr. Steve Lang helps Algebra I students. BOTTOM: Kerri Grooms does assignment. BELOW: Changing an answer to work a problem on the board.

C-9 training

Central 9 Vocational Technical school offered a valuable learning experience for Juniors and Seniors from nine school systems. The school offered a wide variety of subjects including Health Occupation, Secretarial Work, Radio and TV Repair, Printing, Auto Mechanics, and Horticulture. While requiring the usual classroom phase, the courses were designed in order to allow each student firsthand experience in his particular field of study. Students spent three hours in either the morning or the afternoon sessions. Counselors chose those students who were best qualified for Central 9. Students studied there for either one or two years.

Artists vary methods

Much of the attention of the Art Department was focused on a wall sculpture built by the Craft Arts II class. Under the direction of Mr. Blankenbaker, the sculpture was made of wood and clay, and upon completion, it was donated to the school. Other art students worked hard under the direction of Mr. Reynolds, Mr. Blankenbaker, and Mrs. Adamson to prepare their works for the Scholastic Arts Show.

Alternative methods

English courses number 32

The English Department offered variety to students by offering many different courses. First semester courses included chances to study Les Miserables by Victor Hugo in Fiction, Plato's Republic in Comparative Literature, and The Grapes of Wrath by John Steinbeck in Social Commentary. Writing was also covered first semester in courses ranging from Expository Writing to Creative Writing. With the beginning of the second semester, there came more courses. Pre-College Grammar and Review of Grammar were studied by students as others learned more styles of writing in Journalism or began writing in Intro to Writing. More literature was offered with American Lit and English Lit. The variety of courses gave students the chance for a good education.

Grease, grime, grit

The Industrial Arts Department as usual had a busy year. The Advanced Woods classes designed and built their own projects. A sampling of architecture was done in Mechanical Drawing as students built a scale model of a house. The printing of sports programs and the school newspaper was done by students in Graphic Arts. Those taking Power classes were aided with new equipment. By printing and working on individual projects, students in Industrial Arts learned by doing and also provided a service for the school.

Business

To prepare students for the world of business, the Business Department offered courses ranging from General Business to Accounting. Basic skills such as typing and shorthand were also taught to students. All aspects of business were covered by the department in courses such as Business Law and Business Math. Bookkeeping and Accounting offered students practical experience in business. Students who wished to take more extensive business courses went to Central Nine and enrolled in one of several business options offered there.

Fitness stressed

Physical fitness and mental health were stressed in Physical Education and Health classes. In Health students worked on self-improvement projects and learned about drugs and alcohol with the aid of guest speakers and demonstrations. Along with the regular P.E. classes for sophomores and freshman, a co-ed class was offered for the advanced students which included more difficult activities.

TOP: Frieda Copley slides into the pool in Advanced P.E. RIGHT: Jeff Drake climbs the bleachers. BELOW: Rob Goodrich serves a volleyball in P.E.

Home Ec.

The practical duties of cooking, sewing, and caring for children were taught in the Home Economics Department. The students also worked on such varied projects as needlecraft, foreign foods, and furniture refinishing. A wide range of courses was offered so that students could learn the basics and then move on to the more advanced projects.

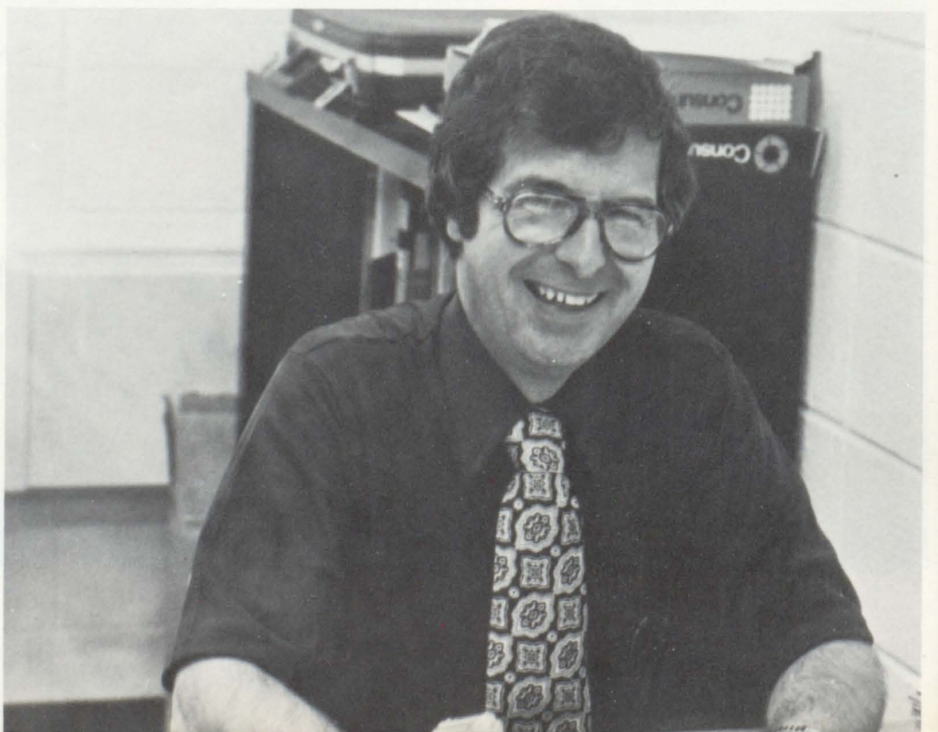

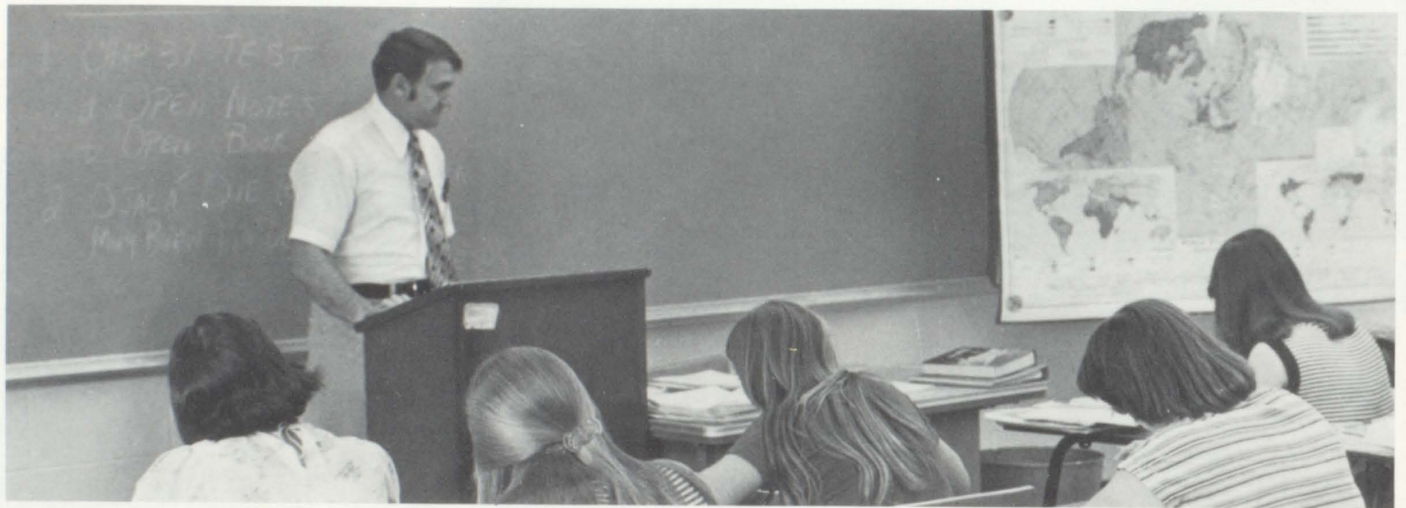

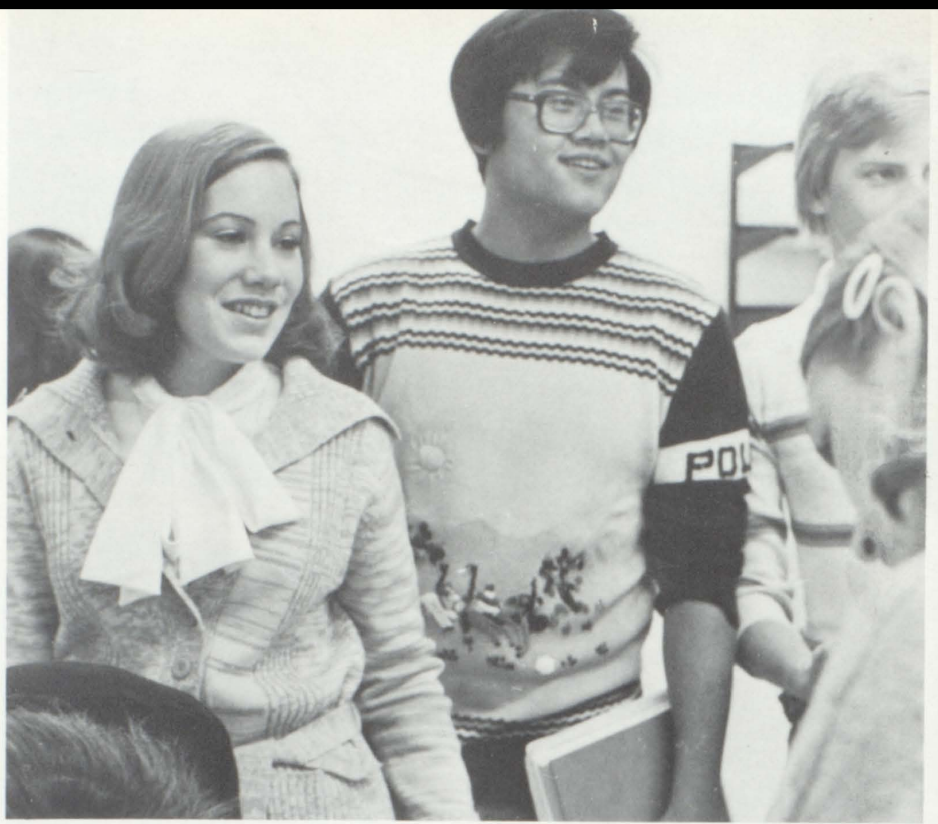

LEFT: Tasting the food is part of the Foods classes lessons. BELOW: Ann Albers stands patiently as a hem is marked. BOTTOM: Advanced Clothing works on craft projects like rug making.

Social Sc.

The election year awakened many students' interests in politics and the Social Studies Department took advantage of this enthusiasm and held a mock election to parallel with the real one. As the year progressed many classes, including Government, also held mock congresses to learn how a legislative body works. Other learning activities included a war game in U.S. History class.

Language

Students had an opportunity to choose from French, Spanish, and Latin in the Foreign Language Department. All three languages were equally difficult as students tackled grammar, spelling, and pronunciation. Games and skits helped the students to put to use the skills that they developed in class. Another aspect of the foreign language classes was learning the customs and habits of the various people who spoke the different languages. This was done both in class and during foreign language club meetings.

Choirs add sweet sounds

Under the direction of Ron Bell, the four choirs of GCHS provided entertainment for the school and the community. Concert Choir, Mixed Chorus, Advanced Girls, and Girls Glee took part in school convocations and evening concerts and performed for local clubs and churches. The choirs also served as learning experiences as students worked with each other to provide entertainment.

Corps, rifles add color to band

Finally "Somewhere Over the Rainbow" the Marching Woodmen found the magic formula and captured Number One at the Indiana State Fair. The band, under the direction of Mr. Herman Knoll, undertook the arduous task with their usual enthusiasm and spent an impressive number of hours for the prize winning show. The summer was an emotional one not only because of being "State Champs" but also because Mr. Knoll left Greenwood to further his career. Mr. Thomas Leslie then took over the reins of the band and led them to second place at a contest at Charlestown. The band then returned to Morehead, Kentucky as defending champs and placed third among the best bands from the Midwest area. The band indeed had a season that will be remembered for many years to come.

Band

"Swing into Spring" set the tone for the Jazz Band's first concert in March. Previously they had performed at all the home basketball games and were instrumental in the increase in school spirit shown at these games. Using the nickname "Blinding Light", the band completed their year by performing free concerts outdoors at various locations for the community's enjoyment.

Seniors express pride

The seniors enjoyed calling themselves masters and considering the underclassmen as their personal slaves. Finally after eleven years of school, the seniors enjoyed a twelfth year as the 'supreme beings'. Mark Veach led the class as President, and as the class built their last float and chose their motto and flower, he was assisted by Vice-President, Robin Wallace, Secretary, Duane Waite, and Treasurer, Paula Meyer. The realization that this was to be the seniors last year of high school encouraged many to assume leadership roles in clubs, athletics, and band. Although the seniors did not excel in spirit contests, they still felt a deep pride for GCHS and their class of 1977.

GRADUATION

The time of year is beautiful
The occasion seems just right
To walk along the carpeted aisle
On the warm and humid Wednesday night

The room is filled with parental fears
Our feelings are delight
To know through years of skipping class
We've done the most things right

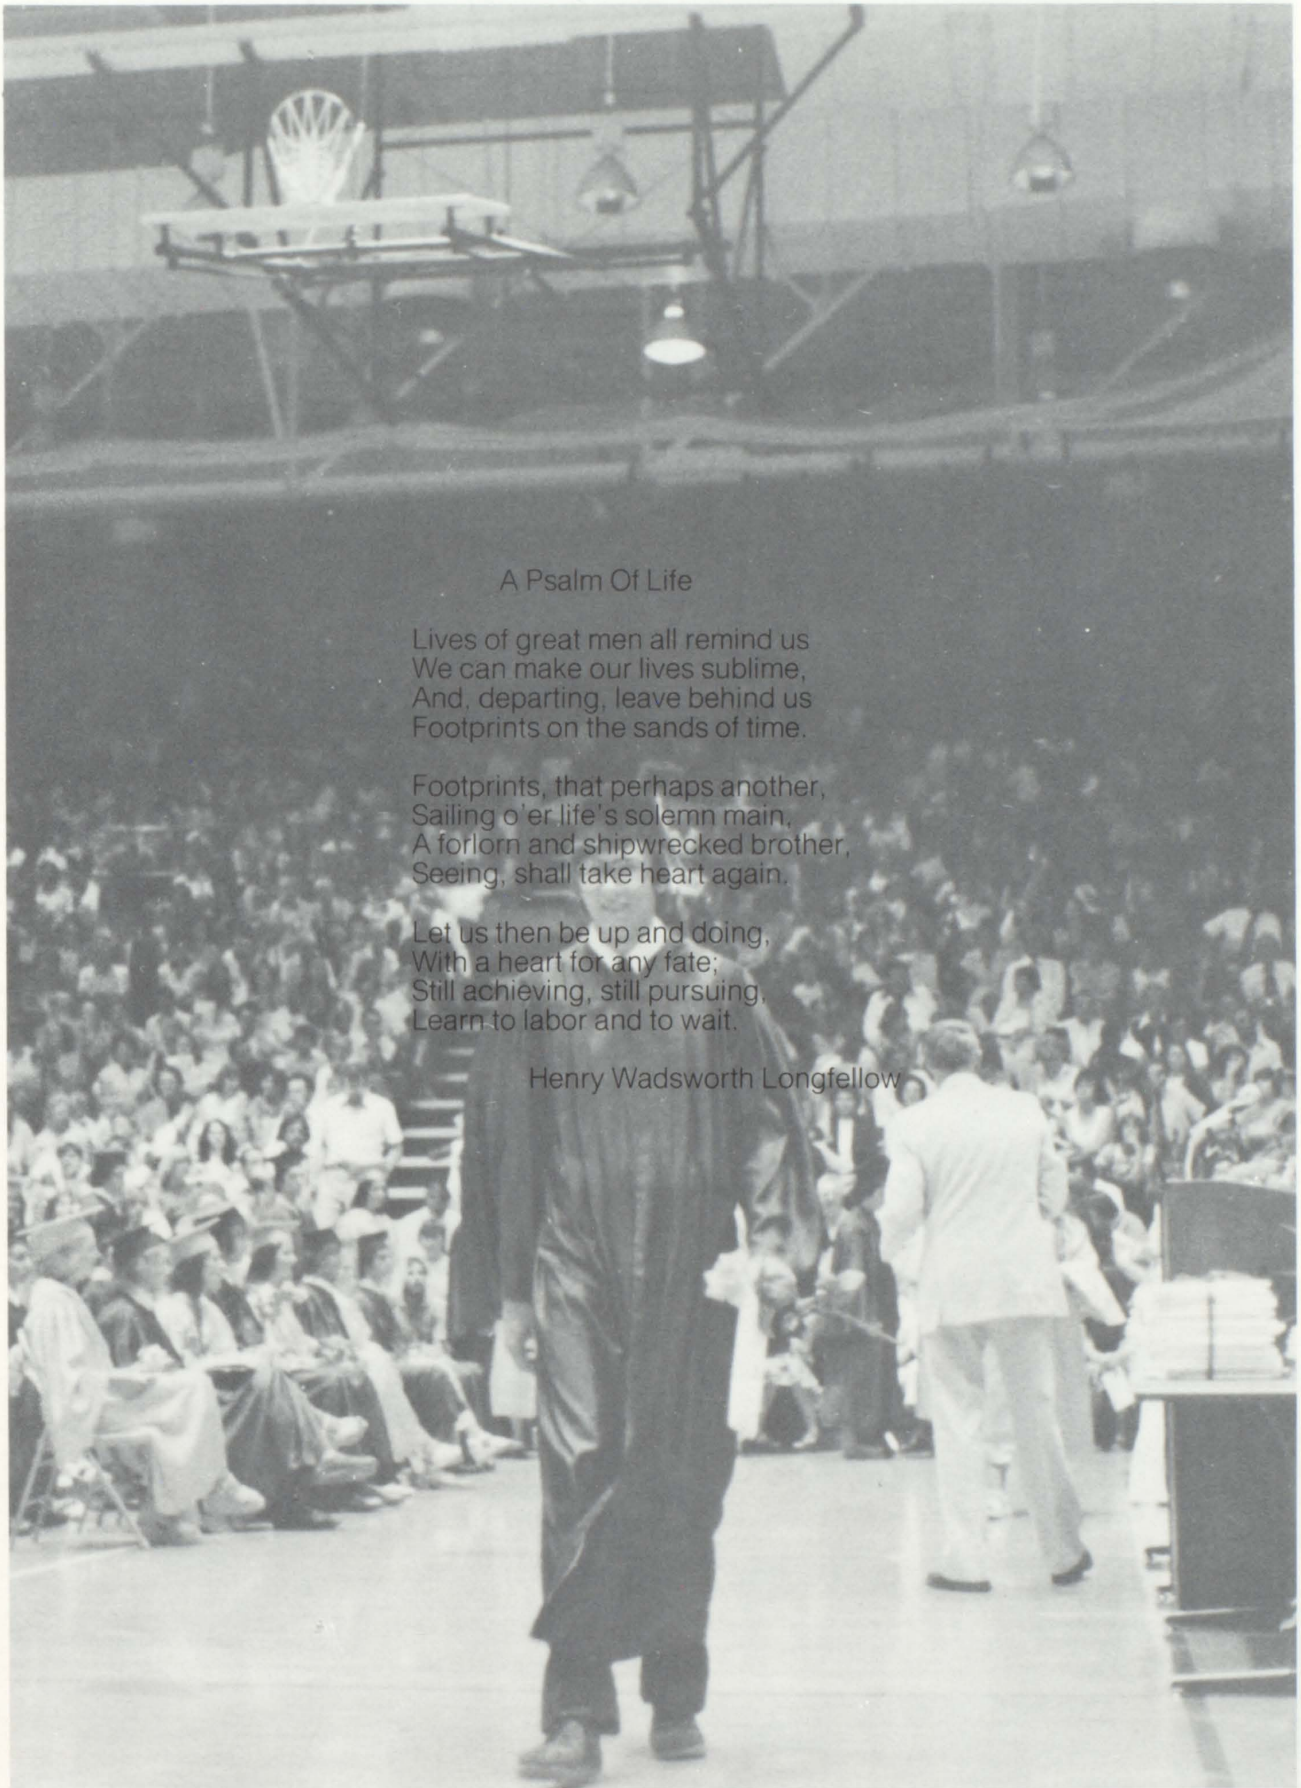

Our diplomas we shall now receive
Our tassels carefully set
As we walk up and get our gift
A sense of pride is felt indebt

Through the years of dreaming carefully
And making all the plans
I feel a sense of sadness
And a chill run through my hands

A tear is felt upon my cheek
A hint of sorrow fills the room
I've just begun to realize
When I'm back it won't be soon

The sorrow quickly leaves
As I hear them call my name
And I receive my honor
A gifted goal well aimed

Cindy Gipson

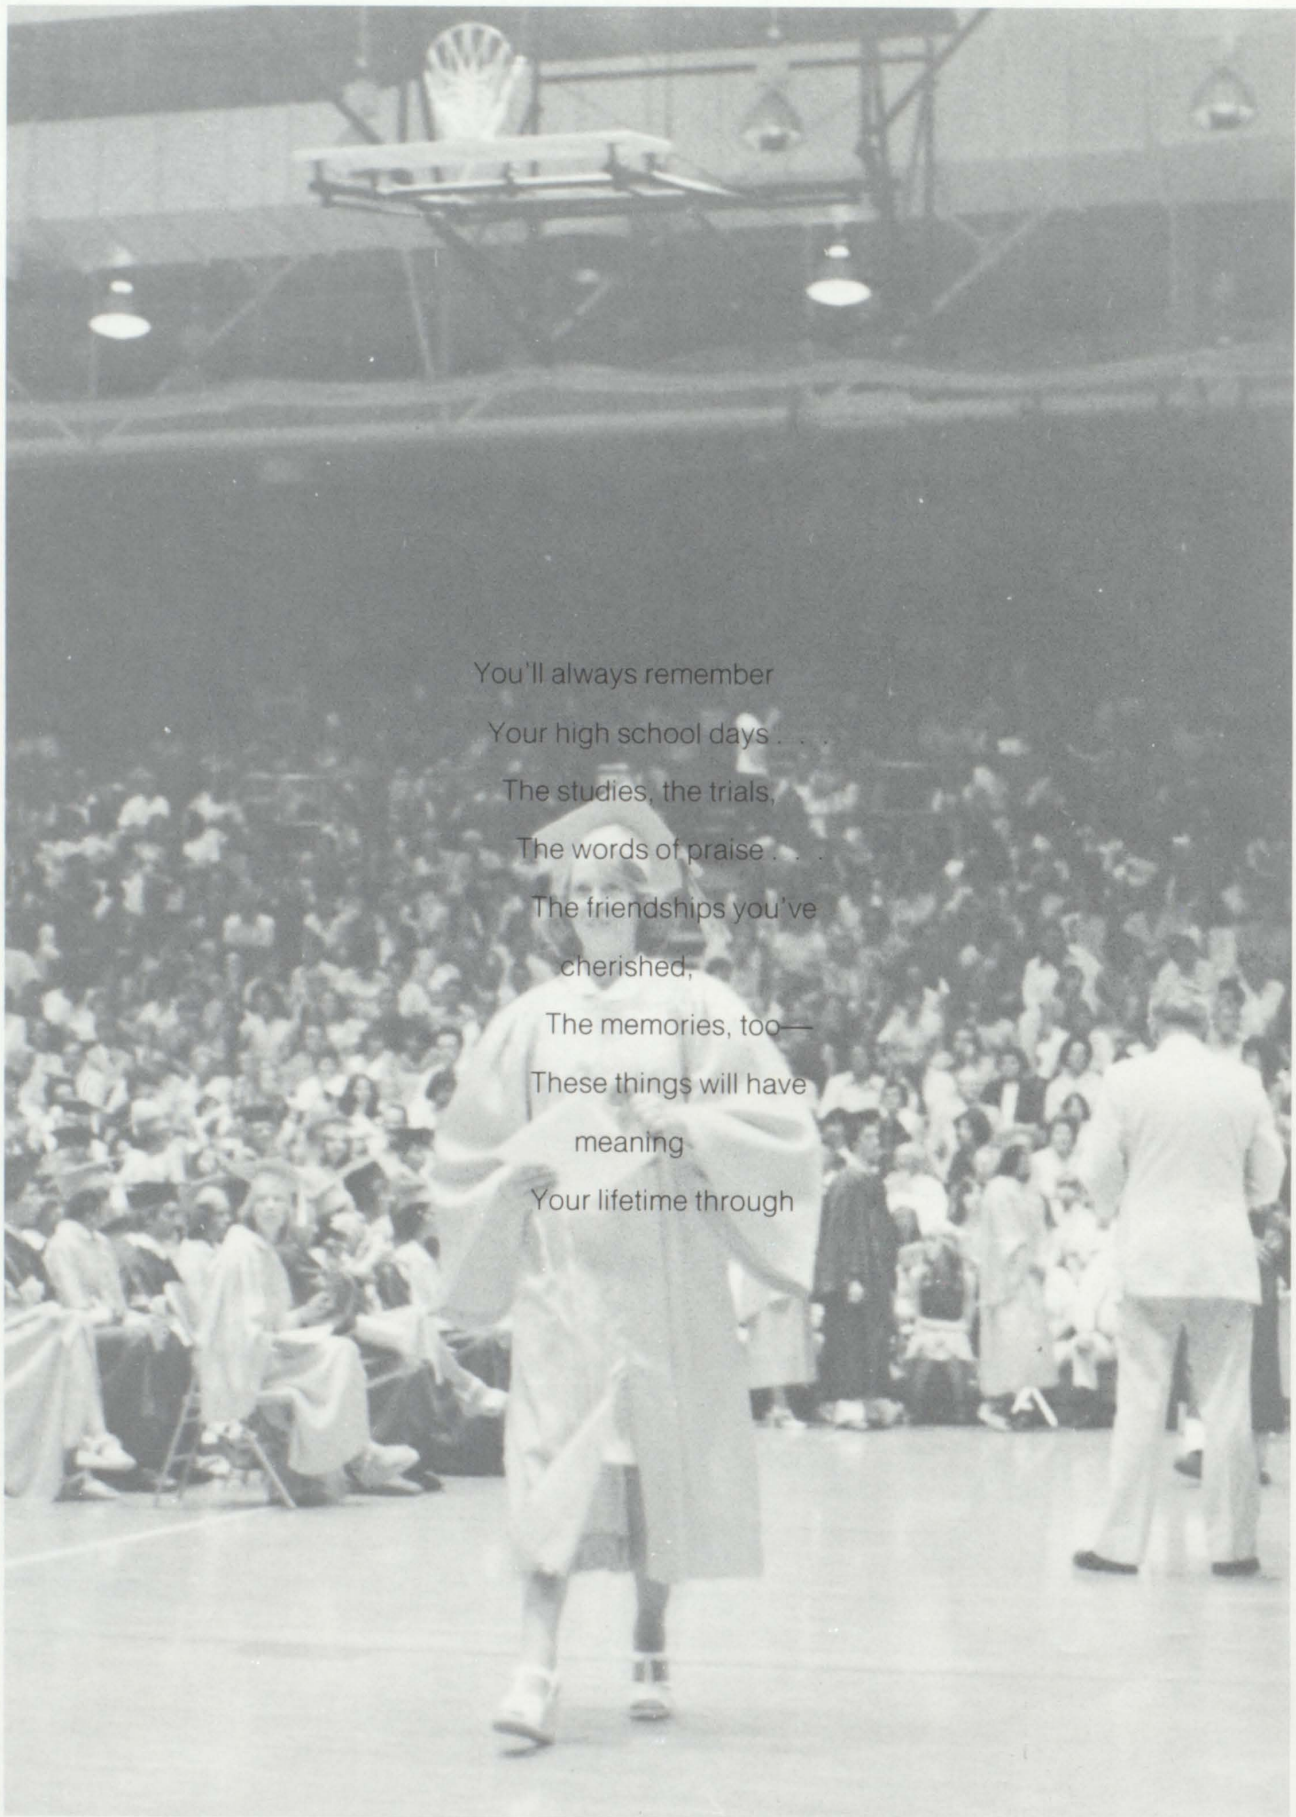

A Psalm Of Life

Lives of great men all remind us
We can make our lives sublime,
And, departing, leave behind us
Footprints on the sands of time.

Footprints, that perhaps another,
Sailing o'er life's solemn main,
A forlorn and shipwrecked brother,
Seeing, shall take heart again.

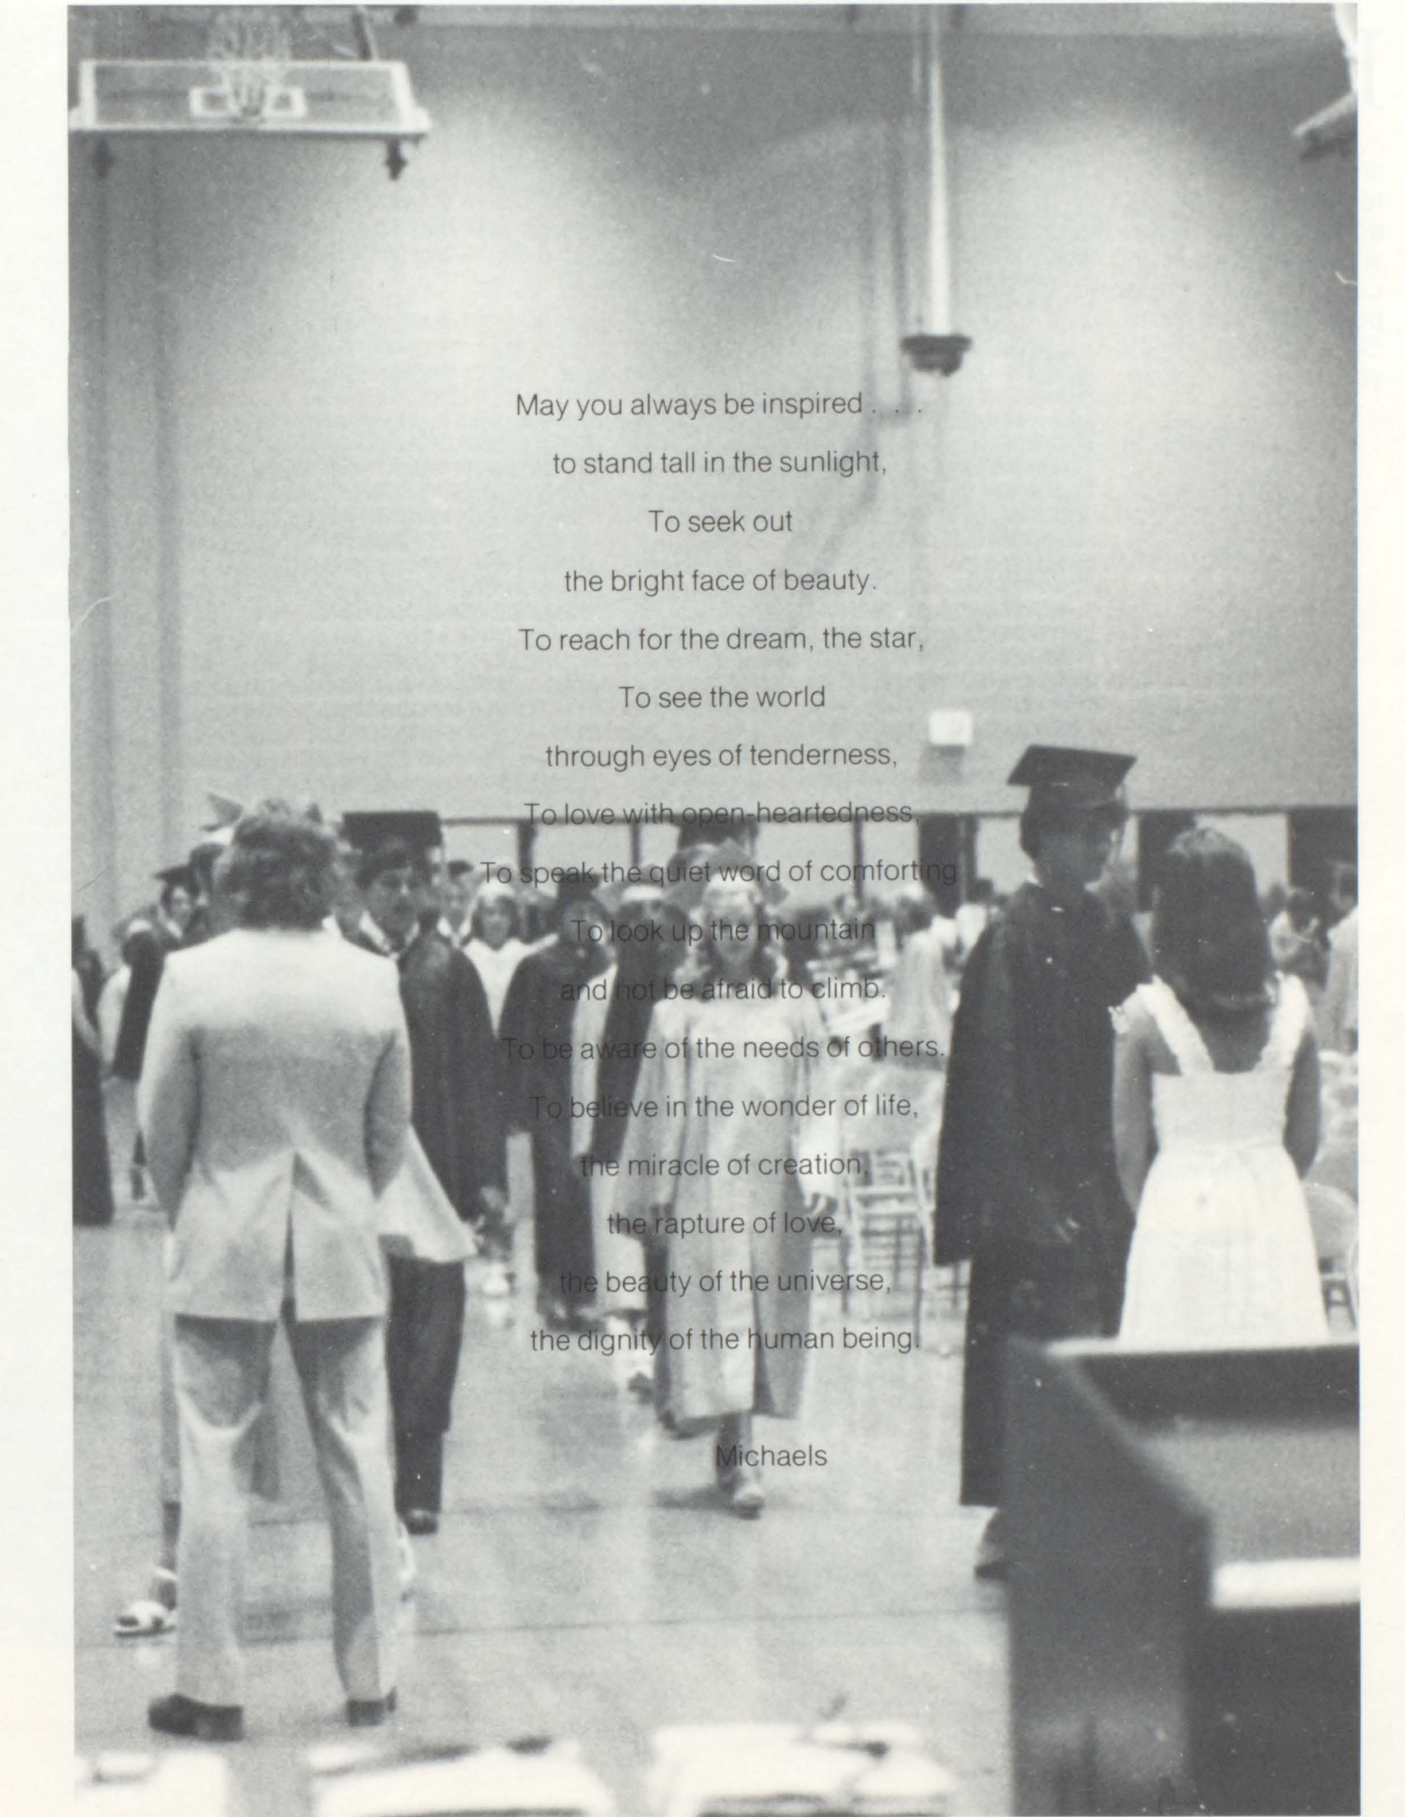

Let us then be up and doing,
With a heart for any fate;
Still achieving, still pursuing,
Learn to labor and to wait.

Henry Wadsworth Longfellow

You'll always remember
Your high school days . . .
The studies, the trials,
The words of praise . . .
The friendships you've cherished,
The memories, too—
These things will have meaning
Your lifetime through

May you always be inspired . . .
to stand tall in the sunlight,
To seek out
the bright face of beauty.
To reach for the dream, the star,
To see the world
through eyes of tenderness,
To love with open-heartedness,
To speak the quiet word of comforting
To look up the mountain and not be afraid to climb.
To be aware of the needs of others.
To believe in the wonder of life,
the miracle of creation,
the rapture of love,
the beauty of the universe,
the dignity of the human being.

Juniors abound in spirit

The juniors spent a year of anticipating their eventual step up to seniors. The class of 1978 abounded in school spirit and showed it in building their homecoming float, cheering wildly at pep sessions, and excelling in class competitions throughout the year. The juniors were also responsible for the planning and funding of the spring prom. They raised money for the prom by running the concession stands at wrestling meets and basketball games. As class President, Julie Cardwell took much of the responsibility for the prom, and she was assisted by Vice President, Dick Dhondt, Secretary, Erin Chamberlin, and Treasurer, Cindy Carson. As the juniors anticipated their final year of high school they looked up to the seniors of 1977, hoping to learn much in the way of leadership.

Sophs win 'superstars'

The sophomore class had a successful year as they took first place for their float at the football homecoming. From this successful venture at the beginning of the school year, the sophomores gained more school spirit and throughout the rest of the year were often seen as the winners in many class competitions.

The sophomore class also learned much during the year as they made the transition from freshmen to upperclassmen. As the school year progressed the sophomores began taking a more active part in club meetings, athletics, and band. Serving the class as President was Sandy Myers. Other elected officers were Shelli Thurman, Vice President, Erin Adamson, Secretary, and Lisa Hynds, Treasurer. These officers did much in leading their class of 1979 to a successful year.

Frosh gain experience

The class of 1980 were the peons of the school this year. They had a long struggle before they reached the coveted position of upperclassmen. As the freshmen, they were still at the age where it was a contest to see who could run the fastest and the quickest down the hall. Others liked to hurdle and throw themselves to their classrooms. Of course, every frosh experienced the wrong directions to classes on the first day of school. Everything was new to them: faces, teachers, upperclassmen, and where to sit in the cafeteria. Most of the frosh learned who they were—nobody —and where they belonged—nowhere. Towards the end of the year things began to look better for the freshman as they realized that they would eventually be upperclassmen.

Thespians/Tech Crew

Members of the Tech Crew worked for all the theater productions, making props and building sets. They also worked lights, sound, and rigging at each performance in the auditorium. Thespians is an international honor society for high school theater. Duane Waite served as president and Melody Nay acted as vice president. Mr. David McFadzean sponsored both the Tech Crew and Thespians.

Debbie Mosley, Steve Bravo, Kim Hogue, Steve Rowe, Scott Maize, Mike Weaver, Ken Hogue, Sherri Irwin, Jay Munchman, Dede Cathcart, Mark Mellencamp, Carl Holloway, Rick Ronan, Bill Flora, Dean Everett, Sandy McLeod, Lee Scotten, Becky Lindsey, Ed Julian, Kathy Swallow, Mr. David McFadzean.

Mr. David McFadzean, Beth Mellencamp, Wendy Bartley, Bill Flora, Melody Nay, Kelli Corley, Ed Julian, Sherri Irwin, Mark Mellencamp, Becky Lindsey, Sandy McLeod.

French

A Spanish and French dinner was one of the first activities of the language clubs for 1976-77. Spanish Club also held a Spanish Day and a cook-out, along with a drive to help Latin Americans. Officers of the Spanish Club included Kim Dils, Valerie Williams, and Nancy Myer.

French Club participated in activities such as Trick-or-treating for UNICEF, French Day, and dining at a French restaurant. Gayle McMahon, Kris Wurz, Jenny Cardwell, and Alison Herrold served as officers and Miss Carol Clark acted as the club's sponsor.

Scott Shay, Gail McMahon, Debbie Hodges; ROW 2: Kim Hogue, Teresa McCreery, Miss Carol Clark; ROW 3: Nina Fattig, Alison Herrold, Kathy Kinnear, Krisiti Wurz, Liza Scotten.

Bible

Under the guidance of Mrs. Betty Mellencamp, the Bible Club met every week to discuss such varied topics as the Psalms, witnessing, and Satan. Once a month they would listen to a speaker or view a film. Many times, Pastor Dan Ondra also provided them with special information and leadership.

Key Club/SSS

The Key Club directed most of its activities towards helping the community. They worked with the Sunshine Society during Christmas to collect canned food for the less fortunate. On their own, the Key Club helped the Salvation Army collect money during Christmas at the Greenwood Center. Many of the members also participated in a bike-a-thon to raise money for the American Diabetes Assn. Officers of the Key Club were Tony Julian, Jerry Baker, Keith Porter, and Mark Ratliff.

The Sunshine Society, being Greenwood's only girls' service club, directs most of its activities toward helping various individuals in the community. During the 1976-77 school year, SSS sold Homecoming mums, sponsored a Winter Whispers Dance, and sponsored a Valentine Flower Delivery Service. Members also combined their efforts with Key Club to carry out a very successful Christmas canned food drive. SSS celebrated its first annual state Sunshine Week and was able to donate $500 to Riley Children's Hospital. Leading the group was Katy Chanley, president, and Laurel Rembold, vice president.

I-Arts

There were approximately 15-20 members in the Industrial Arts Club this year. To pay for their activities they participated in fund raising projects such as selling stationery and small games which they made themselves. Kevin Hommel served as President, and David Huth served as Vice President.

Keith Devine, Kevin Hommel, David Huth; ROW 2: Mr. William Boland, Tony Julian, Janet Hommel, Mr. Steve Lane, Jim Dodson.

Home Ec

Along with selling stationery to raise money, the Home Economics Club held a fashion show in the spring. The clothes modeled by the students were made during classes.

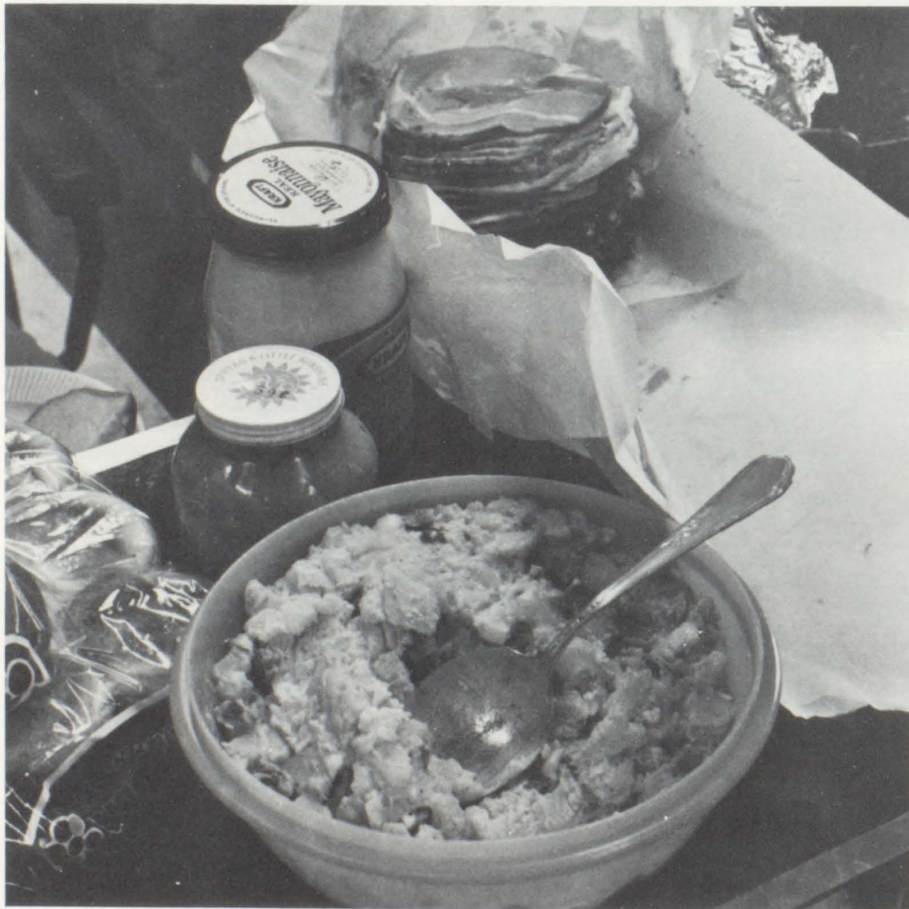

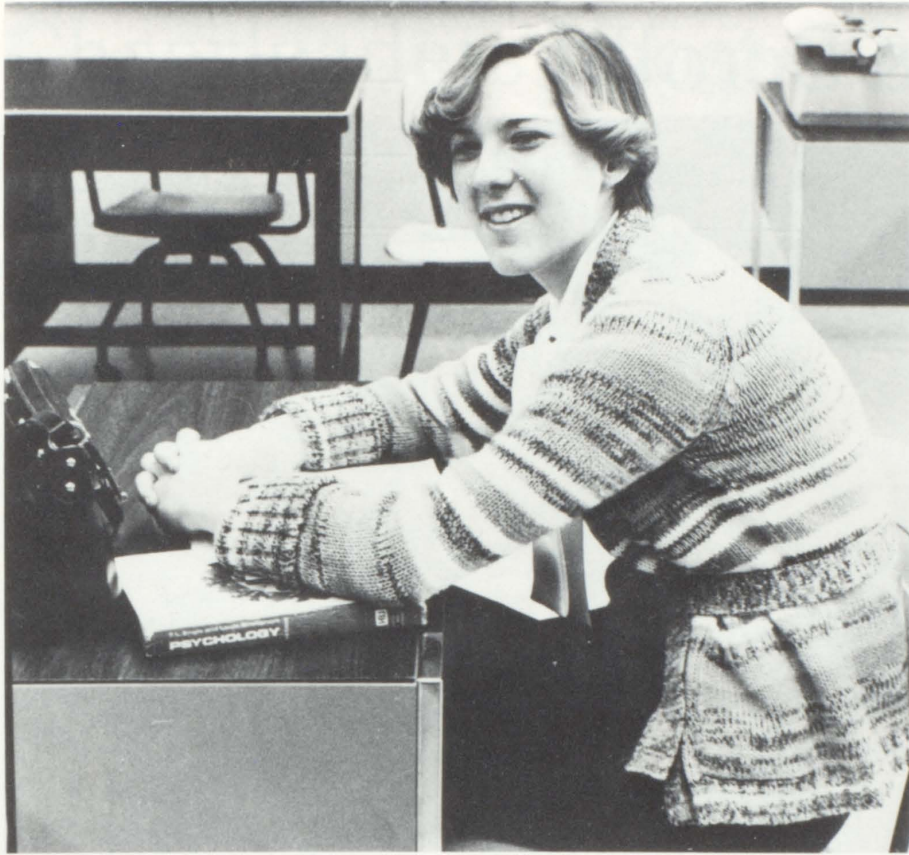

FRONT: Marti Link, Laurel Rembold, Martha Coley; BACK: Jill Wingham, Miss Marilyn Naylor, Mrs. Alice Wood, Cindy Gipson, Diane Mitchell, Judy McIninch.

Pub

The students in Publications spent much of their time working on the yearbook and the newspaper. Students spent hours creating yearbook layouts and writing newspaper stories. To the person looking in many students appeared to be merely sitting around nonchalantly gazing at their fingernails, but in reality they were collecting thoughts and ideas to be published in either the yearbook or the newspaper. In the end hard work and serious thought paid off as the students published many editions of the Timberlines and the 1976-77 Woodman.

NHS/Quill & Scroll

To recognize outstanding students, GCHS has chapters of National Honor Society and Quill and Scroll. NHS is open to seniors who excel in character, scholarship, leadership, and service. Mrs. Sweeney sponsored NHS which held its initiation in the fall. Q & S, sponsored by Miss Edwards, held its initiation in the spring. It is open to seniors and juniors who excel in journalism.

Well, this is my place to tell you all how glad I am that this book is all done, only because I would have done some things differently though, but it has been an experience to say the least.

Many thanks to Miss Edwards for all the long hours finishing up the half-done pages from various sections. Also a note of advice to Jeff - if you ever work on another yearbook staff, the editor's head should be examined. Thanks also to Craig and Lindy for printing those many sheets of RUSH print request forms, and not screaming too much about it. Carol, remember I will be glad to be your photographer for your Burpee Seed Catalog. And to the rest of the staff, that all had special parts in getting this book done. Thanks, Thanks Thanks!

To the rest of the school I leave my book, I hope you all enjoy it, and use it to remember those first and last days at BCHS.
