WOODMAN
VOL. 36
Greenwood High School
615 W. Smith Valley Rd.
Greenwood, IN 46142

Another school year has come to a close.
Another page has been turned in our lives.
The coming of May brought about mixed feelings to us.

The sadness of saying good-bye to a few friends and teachers for the summer.
The happiness of knowing that we have one more year behind us.

We were brought together by that fatal Indian Creek game and torn apart through the class rivalries.

Nonetheless, we were always a team, even through the bad times.

When we look back over the year, certain things stick out in our minds. It's funny how we don't remember those 1,479 classes we attended. Nor do we remember how much time we spent on homework, or how many tests we took. It is only those very special moments that we remember, not the days.

As we get together with old friends, we will surely find ourselves reminiscing about the times when we got drenched at Football Homecoming. We stormed the floor after upsetting Franklin during the basketball Sectionals. We slow danced during the magical Prom night. We tossed our caps into the air at Commencement.

We were touched by "Spoon River Anthology." This list is never ending: a winning band and corps, a zany St. Patrick's Day faculty-student volleyball game, a successful club activity. We were winners in academics, athletics, and activities. Of course, everyone has his different memories, for no two of us are exactly alike. But we all have one thing in common...our loyalty to Greenwood Community High School. We do not remember days, We remember moments.

JUNE

83

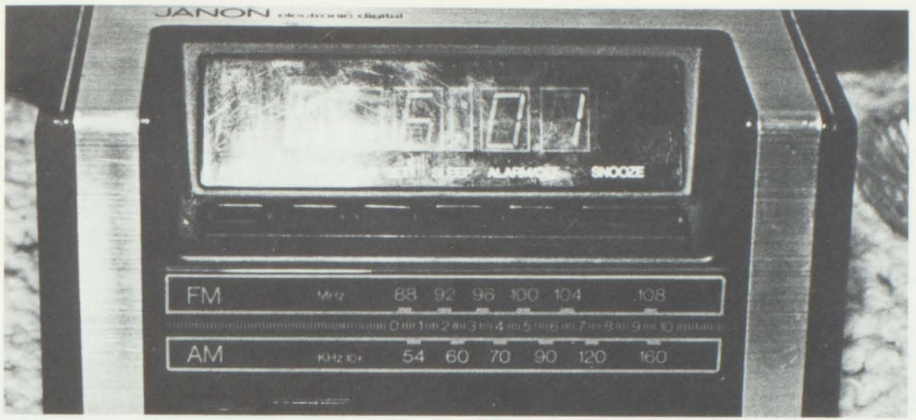

For the typical high school students, dragging ourselves out of bed was the hardest part of the day. Morning preparations were kept fast and simple. One last look in the bathroom mirror before we dashed out the front door. Roselyn, Lind-ner's and McDonald's became popular early morning hangouts. Whether it was bus or car, that long drive down Woodman Boulevard finally brought us to Greenwood High. And our day began from there.

1. & 7. Lindner's provided a nourishing breakfast for Tim Watkins and Jim Wainscott. (js) 2. Matt Thomann prepares a hardy breakfast. (kr) 3. Curt Gholston eyes the scrumptious pastries at Roselyns. (se) 4. The school bus provided a sure means of transportation for those who needed it. (se) 5. Putting your shoes on is part of the morning ritual. (se) 6. The dreaded 6:00 a.m. flashes on the alarm clock. (se) 8. If Karen and Kim's moms didn't have time to fix breakfast, then McDonald's did. (se) 9. The corner bustop was a convenient place to exchange homework and friendly words before the bus arrived. (js)

The long walkway that led to the doors of GHS was a familiar path taken by bus riders. For those who arrived by car, the parking lot was a scene for blaring stereos and crazy antics. The office was always packed with those needing a blue or yellow pass. Laughter and conversation filled the halls and locker banks, popular locations for a quick review of the previous evening's activities or a fast homework check with friends.

Slowly we ambled to class. The thought of spending 55-minutes listening to a teacher didn't sound all that appealing. The bell rang; it's 7:40; time for some classwork. At GHS, some were strictly 'do nothing but work' classes, while others were filled with humor. Most contained a balance. Strolling through the halls during classes, we saw everything from students doing their homework to Bryan Woodcock's horse in Speech class.

The cafeteria and the library provided a relaxing atmosphere for students needing a break from the daily activities. A nourishing lunch of potato chips and a shake with friends or even just a quiet moment by ourselves seemed to be the right prescription for an aching mind. With a pass from a lunchroom monitor, we were allowed to make a quick trip to the bookstore, restroom or the phones. Through the years we've mastered 'the system.'

The 2:15 bell rang, and we filed out . . . well, maybe some of us ran out! Nevertheless, it was back home for the day, except for those who had after school practices, meetings or even detention; the list goes on and on. Council Corner provided a coke or a candy bar for anyone who just couldn't wait until dinnertime. Home at last; it always seemed like a perfect time for homework, whether we did it then or not. If not, there was General Hospital.

After dinner we were off and running once again. Track meets, volleyball, basketball or football games, plays, meetings, dances . . . there was never a dull moment. The excitement 'poured' onto the football field at Homecoming and worked its way backstage after the plays. We never seemed to lack spirit, even when facing defeat. Evening activities at school were good places to socialize and get rowdy while cheering for our side.

At last, Saturday arrived. The town of Greenwood came alive. Cruising the Southside or McDonald's were two fun ways to spend the night. The opening of Showbiz and the discovery of the Amusement Barn brought new favorites to GHS students. A few video games and a pizza made for a great night out with friends. Unfortunately, many found themselves working almost every weekend, but according to all, there was always time for fun.

Drenched Woodmen win!

Rain soaked the bleachers and the court, but football Homecoming was still a success. The week before was spent in preparation for the big event. Dress-up days were an important part of the week along with the working on the floats. The "Homelycoming" candidates campaigned all week long for that coveted title. The climax came as the crown was placed upon the lovely coiffure of Myrtle Mae McGlaughlin.

The high point of the evening was the crowning of this year's queen. Karen Talley received this honor.

In a summation of the events, Chris Hassell said, "It was a homecoming that I'm going to remember."

Couples sway in Paradise setting

"An Evening in Paradise" was the theme for the 1983 Prom. Colors of light blue, dark blue and lavender decorated the Franklin Room at Franklin College.

The highlight of the evening was the crowning of the king, queen, prince and princess. Stacey Wood and Kent Kinnear represented the junior class, and Amy Storvick and Darren Deurlinger were selected as queen and king. Other members of their court were Juniors: Angela Kurtz, Jennifer Docke, Mike Grable and Dave Tyler; Seniors: Brenda Dorrel, Dana Chappell, Steve Caron, and Jay Calvert.

A variety of music performed by Backlash set all different moods and all different dances. Stacey Wood, president of the junior class, was pleased with the outcome of the prom. "I feel it was a great success and was one of the most beautiful proms."

Futures begin for grads

Through the many senior classes that have passed through the doors at Greenwood High School there have always been outstanding members of each class.

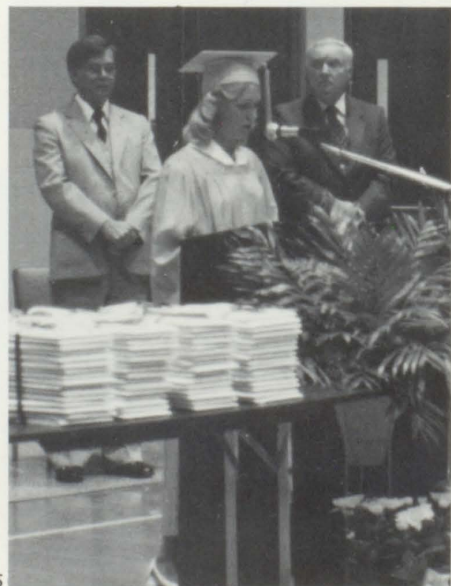

The class of 1983 is very unique and different from all the others. There wasn't really one outstanding student or students. Everyone was outstanding in his own special way. Because of this we will always remember the Class of 1983.

All underclassmen pay tribute to the seniors and thank them for the leadership they displayed through the 1982-83 school year. We also wish everyone luck as they go on to further their education or whatever their plans for the future might be.

For the Senior Class of 1983, we leave you with this thought: What appears to be the end may really be a new beginning!

Homecoming

Laura Green and Bryan Woodcock reigned as Queen and King. Their court consisted of Renee Jacks and Kent Kinnear, Juniors; Kelly O'Connor and Russ Henry, Sophomores; Debbie Mann and Brian Sizemore, Freshmen.

Many activities went on throughout the week. The hall decorating contest, won by the Juniors, was held. Balloons, streamers and posters filled the hallways with homecoming air.

The Juniors won the overall spirit contest, but the moments of the Seniors last homecoming will always stick out in their minds.

Dance sets holiday mood

With glitter on the tables, snowflakes dangling from the ceiling and couples swaying to the soft music of "Three Times a Lady", the mood was set for the Sunshine Society's annual Christmas Dance. This year's theme was "Stardust and Snowflakes", and the accompanying band was Rainmaker. At the climax of the evening, senior Jan Burmeister was crowned Snow Queen for 1982.

Clowns entertain

"Send in the Clowns" was the theme of the 1983 All-School Revue. A variety of acts, with the help of emcees Phil Reed, Laura Green, and Missy Nix, helped to make the Revue a success. According to Ms. Wharton, "The All-School Revue gives students an opportunity to write, produce, and direct their own show. Students who don't normally appear on stage feel comfortable in this talent show setting. It shows the creativity of the student body."

Spirit lives

The age old "Scrooge-story" was brought to life on the auditorium stage in the form of "The Stingiest Man in Town." It brought with it all the beauty and true meaning of Christmas.

Those that came to see the production went away with a renewed sense of the Christmas spirit. Those that were a part of the show gained not only the message of the play and new friendships, but much experience in acting and singing as well. This was probably the biggest advantage of the show. A big percentage of the cast were freshmen and sophomores, with little experience but a lot of enthusiasm and eagerness to learn.

The story centers around Scrooge as he develops from a "stingy", selfish miser to a caring generous man. He is brought to this point through the three ghosts of Christmas that individually come to visit him.

The cast consisted of Todd Clevenger (Scrooge), Carol Miller (Ghost of Christmas Past), Linda Pauszek (Ghost of Christmas Present), Renee VanVeld (Mrs. Dilber), Kris Bogeman (Hawkins), Shan Rutherford (Fred), Jack Jeffries (Mr. Cratchit), Georgie Albright (Mrs. Cratchit), Terri Toby (Martha), Aaron Hawes (Tiny Tim), Paul Fendley (young Scrooge), Pam Murray (Belle and Ghost of Christmas-Yet-To-Come).

In reflecting over the production Ms. Wharton said, "It was a fun show and a special one because it touched upon the true spirit of Christmas and what it can and should mean to all of us."

'Spoon River' presents life's loom

"Life all around me here in the village:

Tragedy, comedy, valor and truth,
 Courage, constancy, heroism,
 failure—

All in the loom, and oh what patterns!"

This is the theme of poet Edgar Lee Masters' Pulitzer Prize winning collection of poetry, "Spoon River Anthology". Presented in March, this play brought the audience close to the action by seating them close to the stage with the actors. After the play, the audience joined the cast for pie, drinks and conversation about the show.

Via musical interludes, the audience was introduced to the ghosts of those who inhabited Spoon River, and to those secrets that have gone with them to the grave. There were 60-odd characterizations and vignettes, offering an amazingly varied array of roles and impersonations, from the young lovers and preachers and teachers, to the funny chronicle of the poor-mixed-up Jew who ends up in the wrong cemetery. Both the sordid and the humorous sides of life are portrayed, with fetching ballads and the free verse form of Masters.

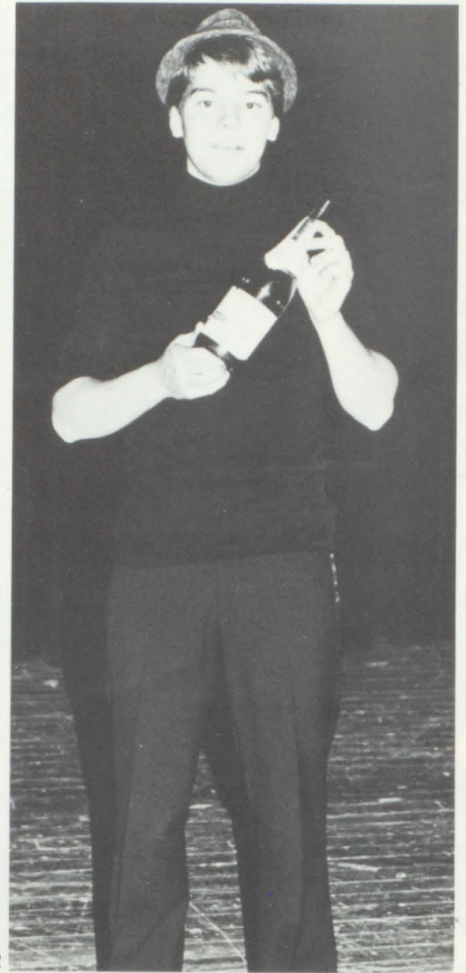

1. Speaking as Faith Matheny, Renee Van Veld closes Act I with this admonition; "Be brave, all souls who have such visions! As your body is alive as mine is dead, you're catching a little whiff of the ether reserved for God Himself." 2. Georgie Albright as Mabel Osborne creates a feeling of pathos as she speaks: "Your red blossoms amid green leaves are drooping beautiful geranium!" 3. Hod Putt (Dennis Rice) explains, "Here I lie close to the grave of Old Bill Piersol . . ." 4. Pauline Barrett (Pam Murray) contemplates: "One should be all dead when one is half-dead; and I did it looking there in the mirror!" 5. "Ladies of the night", Aner Clute (Laura Green) and Daisy Fraser (Linda McCue) discuss the hypocrisy of some of the leading citizens of Spoon River. 6. Anne Rebert, exchange student from France, shared her musical talent as an accompanist. 7. Senior Trish Akers with her guitar and vocal talent created a mood with her "I'm so far, oh, so far from my home." 8. Roscoe Purkapile (Paul Fendley) bemoans: "She loved me! Oh! how she loved me! I never had a chance to escape from the day she first saw me!" 9. Mike Rairdon as Willie Metcalf felt at one with nature, as though "I was not a separate thing from the earth!" (se)

Brian Zaborowsky explains, "I was good-hearted, easy Doc Meyers." 4. "I fell, with a scream, shot through the guts. Now there's flag over me in Spoon River, a flag! a flag!" laments the Civil War soldier, Harry Wilmans (Larry Mitchell) 5. Susan Pinckert as the spiritualist, Zilpha Marsh, "rose and fled from the room bare-headed into the dusk, afraid of my gift." 6. The playboy, Reuben Pantier (Shan Rutherford), toasts the memories of his former teacher: "Somehow, from that hour, I had a new vision, Dear Emily Sparks." 7. Fiddler Jones (Kris Bogeman) ends up "with a broken fiddle—and a broken laugh and a thousand memories, and not a single regret." 8. # Marching season exciting Changes, pride, closeness, disappointing, and yet exciting at the same time, those words describe the 1982 Greenwood Marching Woodmen. To many, it wasn't the winningest season as in year's past, but the Woodmen won in many ways only they can express.

Many changes came to the Woodmen this year. It often seemed as if those changes would split the band, but because of pride, closeness, and maturity, things always worked out.

The Woodmen may not have "won" the contests they attended, but they learned the meaning of working hard under all conditions. They also learned that winning isn't the most important thing. Caring about others and what they feel is the main concern.

The 1982 Marching Woodman's performances included: Kokomo Hayworth—2nd; ISMA district contest—Columbus North—1st division, high score; Greenwood Invitational; ISMA state contest; Contest of Champions—Murfreesboro, Tennessee; MBA Grand Nationals—Johnson City, Tennessee.

"It would be expected to pick a moment of victory or high honor as the most memorable moment. But as one reflects over the past season, I think we'll all remember the time of togetherness and shared friendship. I think of the bus ride back from Nationals; how the bus broke down at 3:00 a.m., and Miss Smith made the situation more fun with her traditional story of Woodmen episodes. Also recall Mr. Sutton sleeping on the bus floor and distinctly recall Mr. Fields and his bad back (not to mention his crocheted slippers). Last, but not least, please picture all of us together before a performance anxiously waiting. Glances are exchanged along with hugs, a few tears, alot of warmth and a common goal shared to do the best job possible."

Growth, maturity, summarize year

For a summary of the 1982-1983 choir year, Mr. Bell put it best—"an outstanding year of growth and maturity."

This year's choirs were busy with many concerts and the first year for a fund-raising project. In October 1982 all choirs performed in a full concert, following with the musical, Stingiest Man in Town, in December. All choirs joined again for the Christmas Concert while all choir members practiced diligently for Solo & Ensemble Contest in January and February.

March brought something new for the choirs. On a Sunday afternoon, all choirs united to perform an afternoon of beautiful music, the Fauri Requiem.

The choir season ended with the traditional Honors Concert in May. This year was indeed "an outstanding year of growth and maturity."

Music fills the air

When most people hear the word "band", they think of marching. But when the marching horns, band uniforms and fond memories are stored away for another year, the concert season begins.

Concert season is an excellent way of furnishing the musicians' abilities. This year the Symphonic Band and Wind Ensemble received 1st division at the ISSMA Ensemble Contest. Earlier in the year, students practiced long hours in hopes of receiving a first division rating. Many of these hopes came true.

The concert season ended in May with the Final Senior Concert. Seniors were recognized and the John Philips Sousa award was awarded to senior Jim Haskell.

Guard competes

The highlight of the year came as the Guard was selected to present the colors at the Girls' State Basketball Finals at MSA. This televised routine gave the Guard exposure to sports fans around the state, and it brought pride to the school and community.

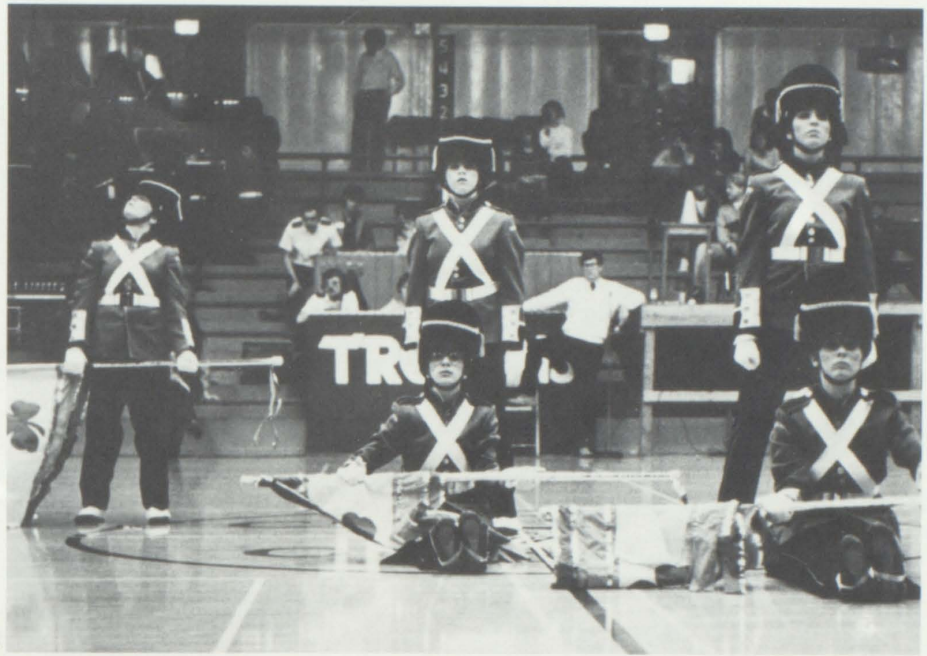

Under the direction of Ms. Pam Smith, the Guard was led by Field Marshall Beth Miller. Flag Captain was Debbie Osburn. Marching season Rifle Captain was Tami Harold and for competition season Pam Schoolcraft was Rifle Captain. Toni Harold served as Sabre Captain for the competition season.

Clubs serve school

Behind every successful stage production is the Tech Crew running lights, sound, and changing scenery. But the job doesn't begin the night of production, it begins weeks before as the crew plans and constructs the sets for plays and musicals.

The Crew also does sound and lighting for choral and band concerts, convos, and outside groups using the auditorium.

The Industrial Arts Club works on advanced projects in woods and metals. The club also does services around the school. This year they made and installed brackets for each classroom door to hold attendance records and passes for the office workers to collect.

Language Clubs busy

The French and Spanish clubs combined efforts and made 1982-83 an exciting year.

In the Fall, both clubs organized an apple pick fund raiser by selling bushels to family and friends. The Halloween party was a fun get together in late October.

The Spanish and French Club Christmas Banquet provided members, their parents and some faculty members with an evening of French and Spanish cuisine, fun and entertaining skits.

French Week had most club members speaking French all day. Brownies, made by the French Club, were sold in the cafeteria to help raise money.

The year ended with trips to different restuarants.

Key Club

Key Club serves school

The Key Club serves the community and school with various projects throughout the year. The activities this year included clearing the football field after games along with ridding the parking lot of broken glass.

During Christmas, the club sponsored the annual can food drive which gathers food for needy families in the areas. Also at Christmas the club teamed up with the Salvation Army bell-ringers.

This year the club sponsored a dance along with Student Council to raise money for Muscular Distrophy.

This year's officers are; President, Alex Smith; Vice President, Pat Kennedy; Secretary-Treasurer, John French. Mr. Steve Lane and Mr. John Hallett serve as sponsors.

Boosters!

Take one very motivated sponsor together with a large group of highly spirited girls and what have you got? You have got a dedicated squad backing the wrestling team on to many victories.

The Wrestlerettes were re-organized under the sponsorship of Mrs. Janice McFerran. She pulled together about 30 girls from freshmen to seniors.

Mrs. McFerran said she never imagined that there would be so much interest in the squad. The 30 girls were all volunteers, buying their own uniforms and paying their way into away meets. To raise money for future squads the girls sold calendars and ran a concession stand at the home meets.

Cheers

Cheerleading is an activity that takes a lot of time, effort, and dedication. This year the girls started practice right after school was out to get ready for camp.

The squad attended NCA camp at Vincennes University. They received blue ribbons every night and then were chosen as the top squad of the 52 that attended.

After camp they began preparing for competition. They did quite well, receiving 2nd at Old Settlers, 9th at Indiana State Fair, and 1st at Super Bowl Sunday.

It takes a lot of talent to keep school spirit up and this squad had a lot of this. They worked all through football season, despite many setbacks, such as a rainy homecoming.

After football season comes basketball. To help with the yells and mounts, 3 senior guys were chosen: Scot Mize, Kirk Garris, Danny Morrison. These guys were a big asset to the squad.

Renee Dewey, a first year sponsor, said, "Overall I felt we had a very successful year and I'm looking forward to another successful and productive year."

Reserves win first in County

"Let's try it once more." These words were heard by the reserve squad more than once during the season. They put in many long hours preparing for their competition. They captured 1st place at the Johnson County Fair, but fell to some top rate squads as they placed 19th at the State Fair.

The reserve kept on working even after competition ended. They were always ready to support their teams. Kelly O'Connor stated, "Overall I felt it was a very successful year and I gained a lot of experience."

Experience gained

During the week of July 5-9, the Freshmen cheerleaders attended the NCA camp with the Varsity and Reserve cheerleaders.

Freshmen cheerleading is a time of growing and the gaining of experience. The Freshmen spent the week in various workshops doing such things as jumps, partner stunts, tumbling and pyramids. They also had time for learning about not only themselves but also the other squad members.

This year's Freshmen cheerleaders worked hard at camp and have ribbons ranging from blue to white to show for it.

Liza Scotten, a 1st year sponsor, had a lot of talent and enthusiasm to work with. Liza not only taught a lot to the girls but was also able to learn from them. This is what made our Freshmen squad such a success.

Society spreads sunshine

Sunshine Society tries to spread "a little sunshine" around the school and community with various projects. The purpose of the group is service.

The Christmas Dance was a big event for SSS. They also sold flowers to benefit Riley Children's Hospital, rang bells for the Salvation Army at Christmas, had a Daddy Date Nite, and spread "sunshine" by doing nice things around school like cleaning up the parking lots and grounds.

Mrs. Kathy Atkinson was chosen the 1983 Ideal Lady.

Thespians break traditional schedule

It was a year of change for the Thespians. Instead of the traditional fall play and spring musical, the musical was presented in December to celebrate the Christmas season. The classical story of Scrooge was set to music in the form of "The Stingiest Man in Town," and the Thespians, coupled with the music department, chose to present this age old tale.

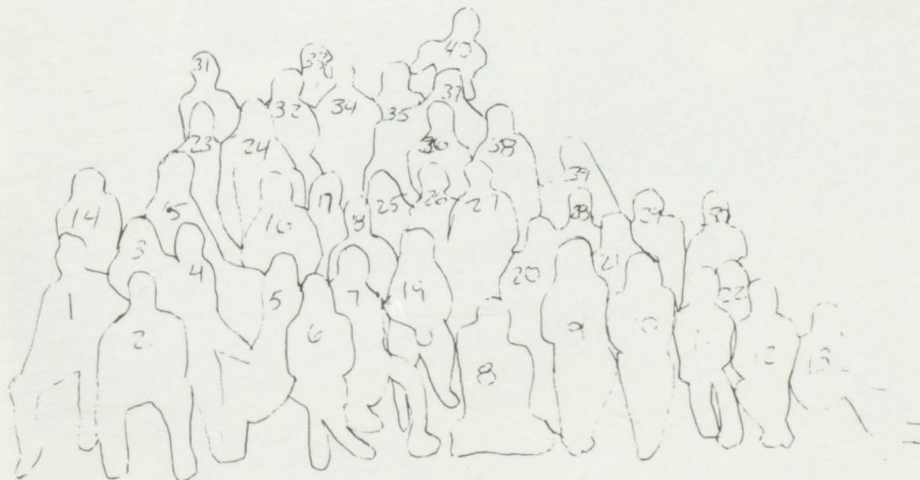

In March, Thespians undertook a serious acting experience in the form of "Spoon River Anthology," adding to the break in tradition by creating "intimate" theatre, having the audience seated on stage close-by the actors.

Starting a new tradition, an academy award banquet was held with the presentation of the first "Willy Awards" in theatre areas, from Best Performance to Funniest to Most Outstanding Techie.

The Thespians closed out the year with a picnic-on-the-lake with water skiing, dodging raindrops and eating.

Officers for 1982-83 were Missie Nix, president; Renee VanVeld, vice-president; Tiffany Hatfield, secretary; and Pam Murray, treasurer.

Officers lead classes

The job of the class officers involves many hours of organization for class projects. Everything from picking ring styles for class rings to planning homecoming floats becomes the responsibility of the class officers. Hall decorations, floats, spirit contests, prom, and graduation are major activities of the class officers.

The leadership of the officers determines the success of the class. The more spirit that is generated by the officers, the more spirit that is found around the school.

Woodmen bounce back in '82

The Varsity football team, led by Coach Leonard Scotten and assisted by Bob Whitson and Bob Silcock, ended the 1982 season with a record of 6-4, and a second place in the Mid-State Conference.

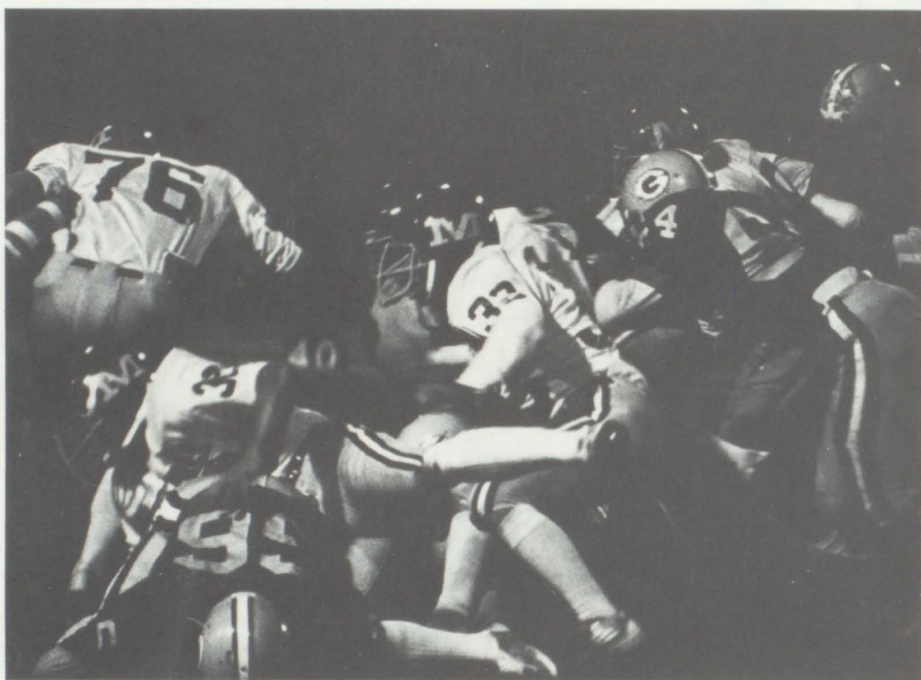

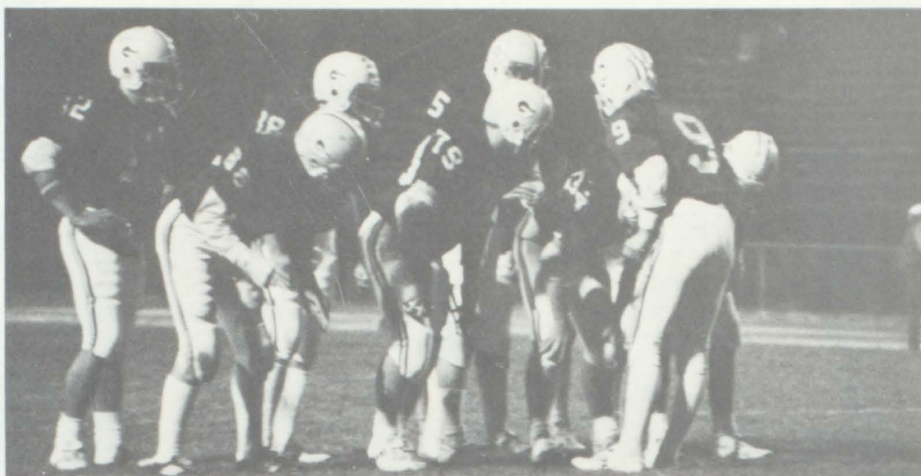

Greenwood opened the season with a 19-7 victory over Franklin and took Plainfield for a 2-0 season start before losing to Avon. The Woodmen also posted victories over Whiteland, Rushville, Beech Grove and won the Homecoming game over Mooresville, 14-7.

Quarterback Tom Vandergriff broke his collar bone during the Avon game, but came back for the last four games to become one of Greenwood's all-time best quarterbacks, leading in seven passing categories. Phil Reed broke a few receiving records at the tail end of Vandergriff's passing.

Mike Warner broke just about every extra point, field goal and kick-off record there was with his excellence as a kicker.

The defense was led by Jack Cummings and Steve Caron on tackles. The offensive rushing was led by Lonny Baker. Cummings received the Mike Neely award, with Caron receiving the Rick Machledt award. Reed was named the Most Valuable Player.

Reserves finish strong

The reserve football team ended the year with a strong finish, winning four of their last five games to finish out the season at 5-3-1.

The reserves crew would have easily been 8-1 due to the fact that two of their games were lost in overtime, and a third ended in a tie.

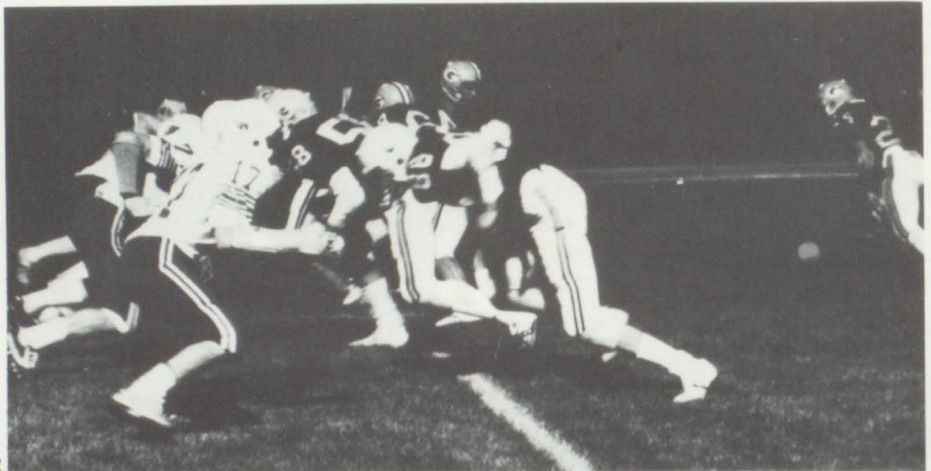

Several of the junior varsity players saw limited action in the reserve games due to participation at the varsity level. This may have proved to be a key factor in the success of the season.

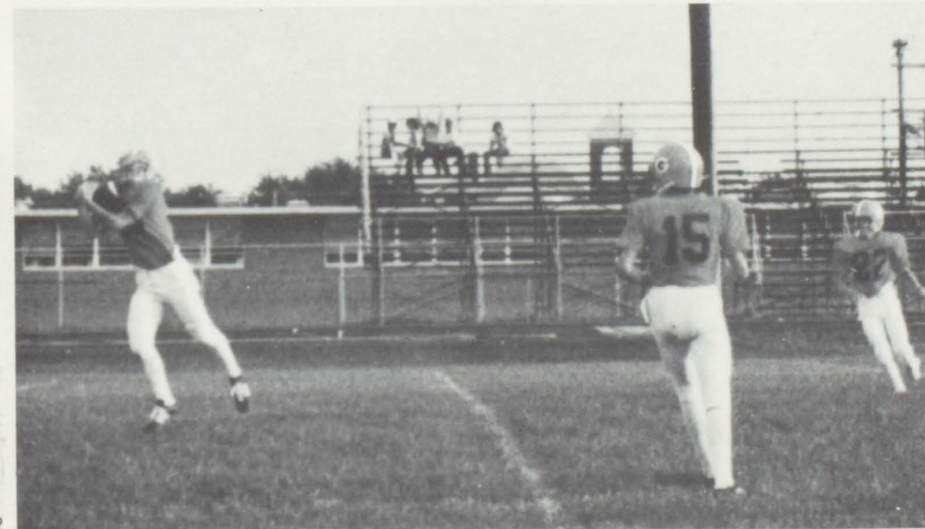

This reserve squad is sure to provide many wins and much excitement for Greenwood fans in future varsity football games.

Injuries hurt

The Freshman football team, under the coaching instructions of Joe Farley and Dick Garris, ended the year with a 2-6 record, which was not indicative of the team's play.

"The team always fought hard and never gave up. This group of kids was a quality group," stated Farley at the year-end football banquet. Plagued by many injuries, which saw the team down to twelve players at the end of the season, some players had to play positions they had never played before.

The freshmen now look forward to a stronger season next year on the reserve level because of the vast experiences gained throughout their freshmen year.

Westcott leads C. C. team with 7 wins

The boys' cross country team had a very disappointing season. They lost all but one dual meet, ending the year with a 15 and 40 overall record. The squad was led by Rob Westcott, who won several dual meets and placed at many invitationals. Ki Randall, Frank Isenthal, and John Irons aided Westcott in the making of a strong team.

The high point of the season came at the county meet where the team made a surprising third place finish. They also ran well at the Mid-State Conference, giving them a fourth place finish. Rob Westcott placed tenth at the Sectionals, leading him to the Regionals where he placed twentieth.

At the end of the season Rob Westcott was named most valuable and improved runner for the 1982 season.

Netters win triple crown

The '82 season was a pinnacle for the Woodmen Netmen. It was the first time ever for the Woodmen to capture a sectional title by beating rival Center Grove. That victory also gave Greenwood the first Triple Crown—a sweep of the Mid—State Conference, Johnson County, and Sectional titles.

To go with this, the Netmen posted a strong 15-7 season record, earning them 25th spot in the state rankings. Coach Gerry Steinhagen attributes the losses to a very tough schedule. Four of the seven losses were to teams ranked in the top 10 in the state, two of which were ranked number one.

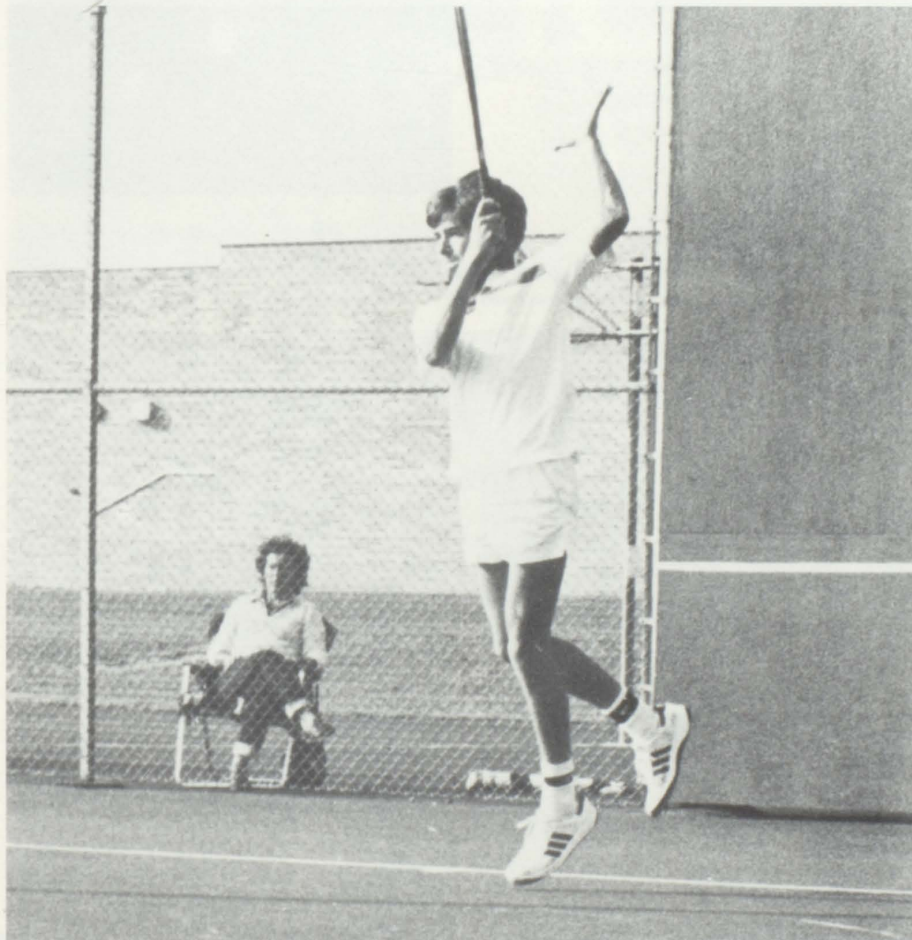

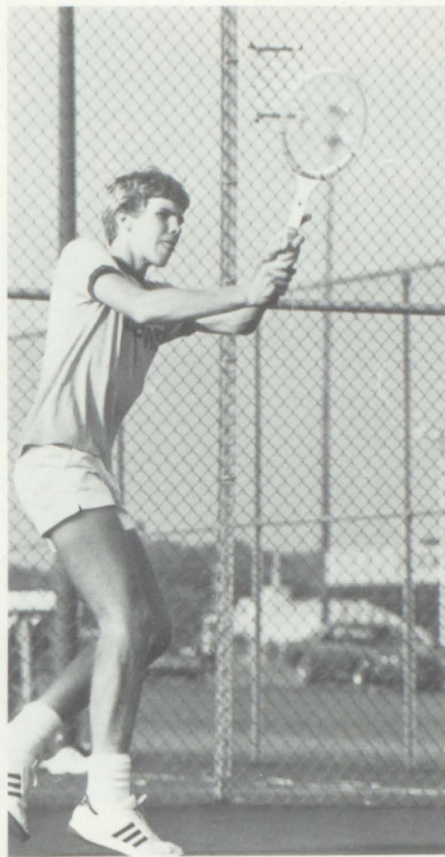

The number one team in the state (Brebeuf) was to be Greenwood's opponent in the Netmen's first regional bid. Kent Kinnear fought hard to post his 20th victory of the season, but the rest of the team couldn't match his triumph as the Woodmen lost 4-1. Coach Steinhagen was pleased with the team's effort and said, "I think we felt pretty good going up there, but when we got on the court it suddenly hit 'em that they were playing the number one team in the state."

Kinnear's victory kept his tournament record spotless, and advanced him into the IHSAA's singles tournament for the second straight year. Kent made his way into the final four by winning probably the sweetest match of his career by beating his nemesis Grayham Rogers of Park Tudor 6-3, 3-6, 7-6. That win avenged two previous losses to Rogers. Kent made his way into the final match, one step closer than the year before, but it wasn't quite enough as he lost in the finals to Paul Koscielski of South Bend Adams. It was the second time for the two to meet in a State Tournament.

Reserve netmen win 12-4

Working and practicing right along with the varsity team, the reserve netters put finishing touches on their game. Many of the talented reserves, such as Trevor Gibson and Kit Robbins, will be counted upon to fill in the openings on the varsity squad next season.

The team fought its way to an impressive 12-4 record, defeating such teams as Columbus North and North Central. With players and figures like these, the outlook for Greenwood tennis in the future is a bright one.

Woodmen runners-up in sectional

The boys' varsity basketball team ended the year with a 13-10 record that was not indicative of their play. The team's record, as a matter of fact, was marred by 4 games lost by one basket or freethrow, all of these games having questionable officiating. This did not stop the Woodmen from playing well throughout the year. Coach Vandergriff could always count on all eleven players giving 100% at any given time. This was indicative of the team's play, and was demonstrated in the sectionals, as the whole school pulled together with spirit and enthusiasm to help the team win its first sectional game in 10 years. The Woodmen went on to win a thriller against Franklin but were unable to cap the season with a win as they got beat in the final game against Indian Creek.

Although there was a total team effort, some individuals did stand out. Leading the Woodmen in scoring was Jeff Smith, with a 18.5 scoring average. Leading the rebounding column was Kent Kinnear with 192 rebounds. On the defensive end the Woodmen kept up their normal dominating tradition.

With all of this the team came out with a 13-10 record, but a lot more came from the season than is shown in the won-loss column.

Reserves thrill crowds

The boys' reserve basketball team, under the coaching of Mr. Keaney Sloop, gave crowds thrills and victories. Throughout their up-and-down season, they compiled 9 victories, to finish the year with a 9-11 record.

The reserves were led in scoring by Jeff Barger whose high-flying acrobatics brought crowds to their feet. The defense was led by Brian Durkalski. His extra hustle and blinding speed caused many turnovers. Point-guard Brian Ford stepped in to fill the leader's role. He kept the team calm and collected through many tight situations. The experience and skill these players acquired throughout the year will be invaluable as they help fill the six varsity slots open next year.

Coach proud of team's efforts

"I am very proud to have coached these kids," praised Coach Gerry Steinhagen, talking about the Freshman Basketball teams. The A-team finished the season with an 8-10 record. They reached the Conference Finals before getting beat by Mooresville in the Championship. Greenwood faced the Pioneers the very next week and beat them on a last second shot.

"Being able to come right back after getting beat in the finals and beat that same Mooresville team, that shows how great these kids really are," Steinhagen said at the awards banquet. John Settles led all scoring with an average of 10.5 points per game. He was followed next by Dean Mattick with 8.2 points per game.

The B-team coached by first year coach Jim Mitchell finished the season 1-10. The leading scorer was Jason Hall with 6 points per game.

Swimmers rebuild

With only two returning swimmers, the boys' swimming team was faced with a rebuilding year. This year the team finished 4th in the county, 6th in the Mid-State, and placed 10th in the Sectional. Coach Sauer commented, "The boys are very promising and were very competitive at the end of the season." Greenwood's Rod Roller was a great success after his first year of competitive swimming, breaking the 100 backstroke record. Greenwood will have many people returning next year, including, most valuable swimmer Greg Turley, and mental attitude winner, Dan Barkes.

Dhondt leads grapplers to 10-6

This year's Varsity Wrestling Team, led by Coach Marlowe Mullen and Senior Captains, Steve Dhondt and Jack Cummings, finished the season with a 10-6 record. Coach Mullen stated, "It was an excellent team effort to turn around last year's 6-8 record."

The Grapplers finished 2nd in Sectional with 6 Sectional Champions, including: George Freund, Steve Dhondt, Scott Bless, Jack Cummings, Glen Wright, and Brian Grabhorn. M.V.P. Steve Dhondt went along to become the only Regional Champion. He also led the team in pins (13) and overall record of 27-1-1. ## Matmen pin 4-4 record

The reserve wrestling team compiled a record of 4-4 under new Coach Scott Bilings. Mr. Bilings is currently attending Franklin College to become a teacher and a wrestling coach.

The team showed steady improvement over the season in some individual performances. Leading the way was sophomore Kevan Woodcock, with a record of 3-2. He was moved up to the varsity level halfway thru the season to replace the injured Earl Overton. Others who showed promise were Tim Ader (13-1), Tony Battreal (5-3), Andy Cline (4-7), and Jerry Burch (3-5-2).

The team placed 4th in the Mid-State tourney. Tim Ader placed 1st, Tony Battreal 2nd, Kevan Woodcock, George Lacefield, and Jerry Burch all picked up a 3rd.

This year's team showed a lot of talent and hope for the years to come.

Lettermen lead Woodman diamondmen

The 1983 Woodmen baseball team looked forward to defending their Sectional crown with seven returning lettermen. Leading hitter and tops record-wise from the mound, Rick McLeod, led the returning players. Shortstop Phil Reed, second baseman Jay Calvert and catcher Dan Skeel provided a strong middle defense. The team stood at 6-6 early in the season before some defensive changes and good pitching got the Woodmen into a five game winning streak with three games going a total of 33 innings.

Going into the Sectional, the team stood at 12-10.

Jeff Smith led the team in runs-batted-in and home runs. Phil Reed led in stolen bases, 14 of 16, and in runs scored with 24. Rick McLeod also had 24 runs scored and led the team in pitching with 93 strike-outs. Dan Skeel led in percentage 5-1 pitching.

Reserves perfect game skills

The reserve baseball team fought rain and cold temperatures as they perfected their baseball skills. Coach Silcock and the team worked on defensive skills of the double play, cutting off the runners, and getting the baseball in to stop the scores. Offensively the team drilled the ball for base hits, advancing runners to the plate. Many of the team will move up to the varsity.

Vandy jumps in state

Like tennis, golf and swimming, track is a team sport and an individual sport at the same time. One can be a winner and a loser in the same meet.

This year's track team was a winner, both as a team and as individuals. The team itself finished the year above .500 with a strong second place in the County meet and a second in the Conference meet. In the Sectionals, the team managed to defeat every Johnson County team.

Individuals excelled this year as well. Lonny Baker and Tom Vandergriff set school records. Baker set the 200 meter dash record with a run of 22.9, while Vandergriff set the high jump record with a jump of 6'9".

Four individuals qualified for the Regional meet at Bloomington North. They were Brian Durkalski in the 400 meter dash, Lonny Baker in the 200 meter dash, Tom Vandergriff in the high jump and John Micketts in the discus throw. Vandergriff was able to advance to the State meet where he finished in a tie for tenth place.

Overall, the 1983 track team showed much success, individually and as a whole, giving the fans much to cheer about.

Linksmen tee-up

The golf team had a frustrating spring as the weatherman kept predicting rain and cold, causing the golf schedule to change.

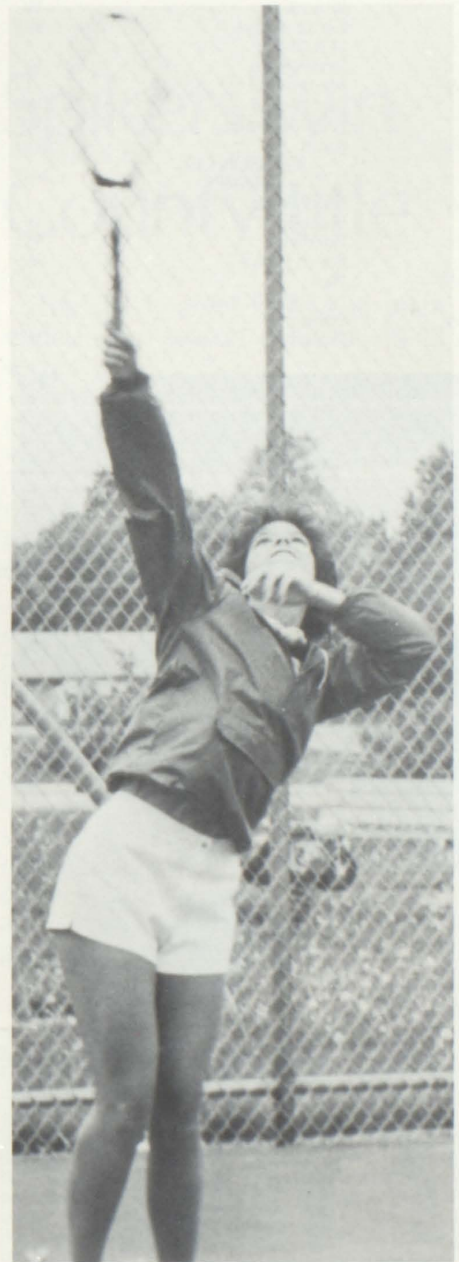

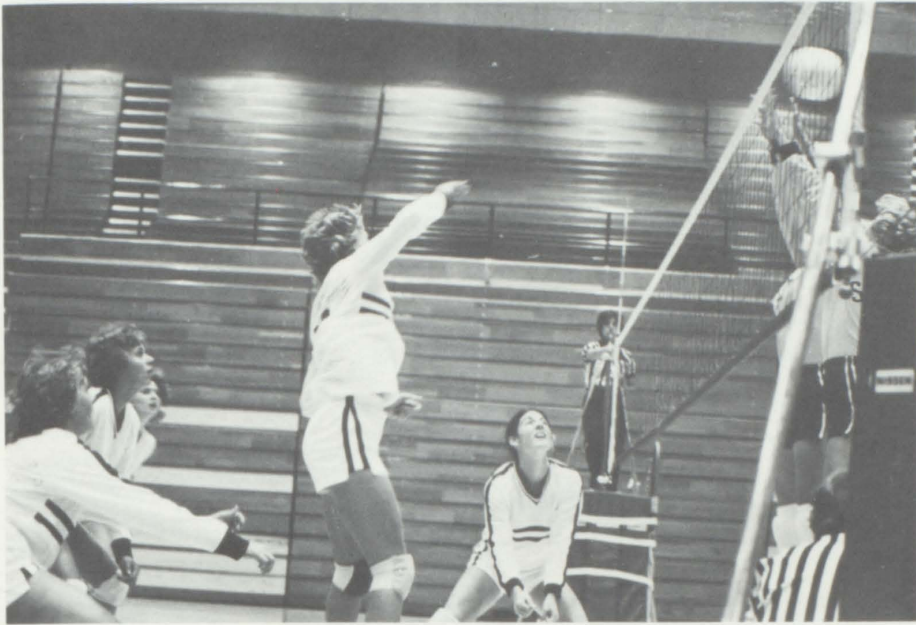

The young team, under first year coach Bill Thompson, was paced by Ted Donnar, who was named to the Mid-State team. Tony Weiske and Don Bright were also leading contenders in each meet.

Spikers win County title

The girls' varsity volleyball team ended the season with a 10-13 record.

One of the biggest accomplishments of the season was winning the Johnson County Tourney. Greenwood had to play three hard matches to pull out the title. It was a long, but worthwhile day.

The team lost seven seniors, who added a lot to the year. Brenda Dorrel was most valuable player and best receptionist, Ann Barkes getting best serving percentage. Other awards went to Steph Estell for best set % and Karen Gladish for spike %.

Coach Barb Otte summed up the season by saying, "It wasn't a successful season, but it was a year for close friendships and enthusiasm, and along with these also came great determination and skill."

Spikers net winning seasons

The reserve and freshmen volleyball teams enjoyed winning seasons this year. The freshmen record ended up 9-4 and the reserve ended with 12-7.

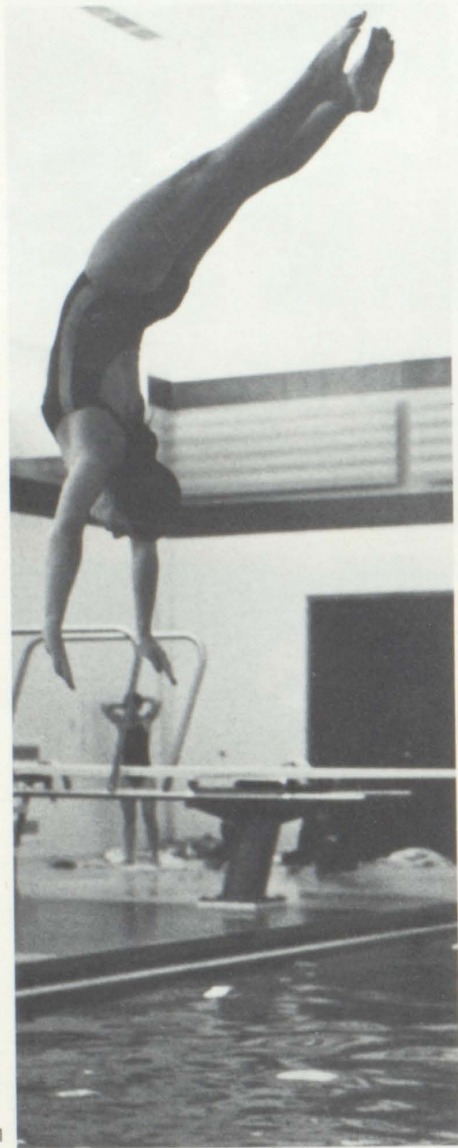

Both teams felt they learned a lot throughout the season. Some of the freshman players shifted back and forth on the reserve team which made things a little confusing according to freshman coach, Cheryl Talbott.

The teams felt that some of their success was brought on by the fact that they worked well together as a team, and because of their fighting spirit and tough attitudes.

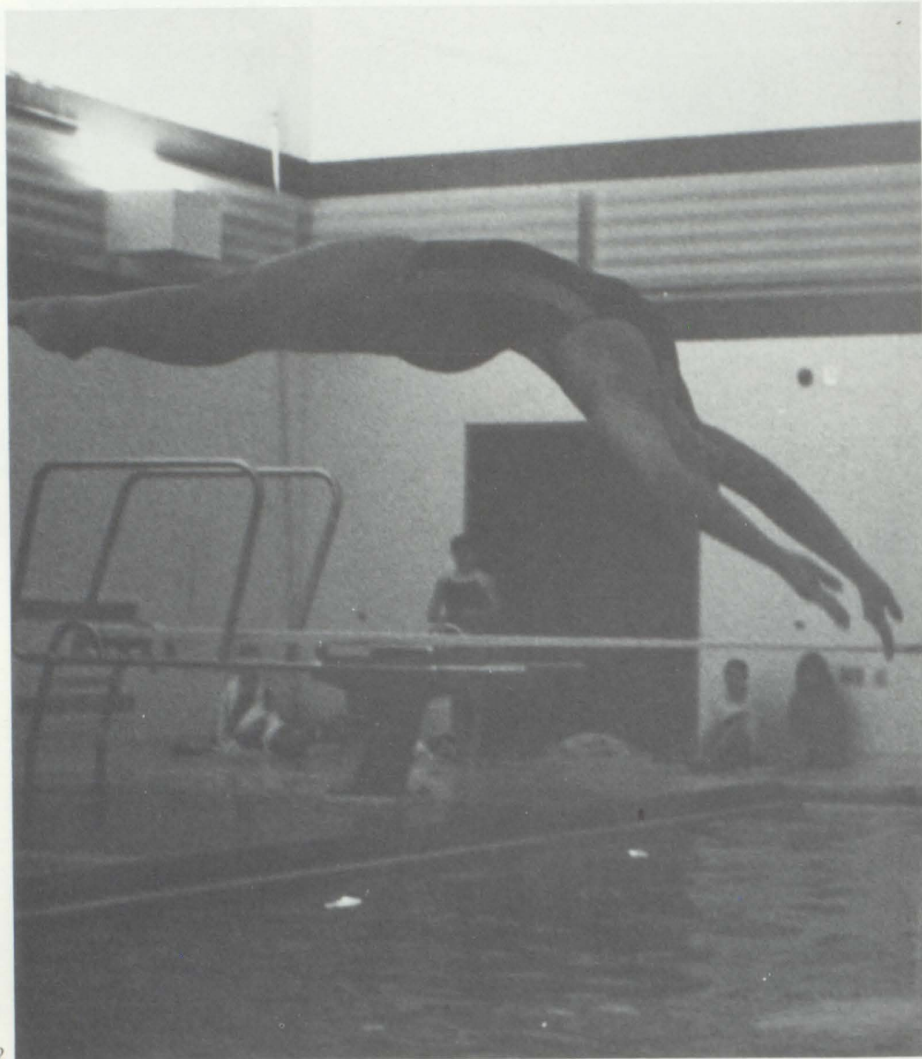

Coach Talbott summed up the season by saying it was "lots of fun, a great year, and I was very proud of the teams!"

Swimmers set, break records

The girls' swim team enjoyed a "record-breaking" season. Although it was only their second year out, the girls displayed excellent diving and swimming skills. Led by Coach Mary Sauer, the 200 freestyle record was shattered by Heather Allen with a time of 2:24.2. Other records included Paula Velez in the 200 individual medley with a time of 2:42.6, the 50 freestyle by Laura Bertsch with a time of :26.2, and the 100 freestyle by Marina Jones with a time of 1:04.7. Also, Heather Allen broke the old records for the butterfly and the 500 freestyle with times of 1:13.5 and 6:21.4, respectively. The 400 freestyle relay team of Marina Jones, Laura Bertsch, Paula Velez and Heather Allen also broke the old school record with a new time of 4:25.4.

Injuries, inexperience hurt CC

The girls' cross country team had an "interesting season" according to Coach John Irons. "Inexperience and injuries played a major role in the season. Without the injuries we would have had a very successful year. With the injuries, it became a long year," stated Coach Irons.

Because of the injuries, the girls did not have an official team of five runners. They did compete on more of an individual basis though. A new face to the CC course, junior Marianne Naberhaus, made a name for herself this year. She was not only the team's number one runner, but she often finished in the number one slot of the 3 kilometer race. Placing well in some big meets, including a 2nd place in the Mid-State meet, Marianne is planning to run again next year.

Anne Rebert, an exchange student from France, also ran. She had played sports in France, but said cross country is very hard. She had a rough season fighting injury and cold.

Juniors Susan Waddell (2nd team runner) and Dawn Davidson also helped the Woodmen runners.

Season ends with 5-15

The girls' Varsity Basketball team ended their season with a record of 5-15. The team's goal was not weighed that heavily on an excellent record, although, it is always nice. A large portion of the team's losses were by a difference of three to five points.

It was Barb Otte's first year as the Varsity coach, so for both her and the team it was a year for learning and gaining experience.

The old offenses and defenses were thrown out and new ones were designed. Quickness and speed were added to replace the old slowdown method.

In sectionals the girls won the first round, which was a big accomplishment because Greenwood hasn't won a sectional game in many years. In the second round the team played a close game with Center Grove but fell short of a victory.

Individual skills goal of Reserves

The girls' reserve basketball team finished their season with a record of 6-12. The team consisted of only two juniors and the rest freshmen this season.

First-year coach, Cleone Heebner, felt the girls improved a great deal from the first game to the last, especially in shooting form, quickness and man-to-man defense. Heebner stated that she was proud of the effort the players put forth in order to improve their skills.

Developing individual skills was a main concern for Coach Heebner's team this year. All the work was well worth the effort according to Heebner because she felt she was helping individuals better themselves physically as well as mentally.

Regional winners ranked 10th

"Awesome" is a great word to describe the 1982-83 varsity girls' tennis team. They ended regular season with a record of 18-2, losing to the number one team in the state, Brebeuf, and to rival Park Tudor. They won the County, Mid-State, Sectionals, and Regionals.

At number one singles, Brenda Dorrel lost only one regular season match. Jennifer Docke, at number two singles, finished the season 17-2. Jill Cockrill, at number three, finished 16-2. The number one doubles team, Dana Chappell and Linda Pauszek, finished 17-3, and number two doubles, Kris Garris and Amy Storvick, finished 18-2.

The team was ranked as one of the top 10 teams in the state by voting coaches around the state. Coach Schulz was really proud of the way her team played all season. Even when they were sick or injured, they played well and won.

Reserves serve-up 11-1 record

"We had a great season" is what the reserve tennis players said of their winning 11-1 record this year. As a whole, the team improved very much over the start of the season. Three players were undefeated in the season; these were freshmen Debbie Mann, Heather Allen, and Angie O'Conner.

Number one singles player, Kelly Jackson, said there was a lot of team unity. This really helped to fire up the team.

Coach Schulz said she saw improvement from top to bottom on the team. She was very pleased with their season and sees good prospects in the years to come.

"All of the reserves were given a chance to play in some varsity matches," said Schulz. "This gave them valuable experience for next year and in their future varsity matches."

When asked what helped her improve over the season, Michelle Zeis said, "Working on skill drills helped us a lot." She added also her thoughts about next year's season, "We're ready and willing and waiting!"

Naberhaus sets county records

The girls' track team finished their season with a 2-7 record. Although it appeared to be a bad season, it does not show the tremendous amount of individual talent and dedication which was prevalent on the team. The girls practiced in freezing weather, high winds, and rain. The meets were also run under bad weather conditions. Graduation last year took away a lot of top athletes.

The high point in the season was the County track meet. Greenwood broke records and finished third in the meet. Marianne Naberhaus was selected by the county coaches as most valuable runner. She won the 800 and 1600 meter runs and helped lead the 1600 relay team to victory, setting meet records in all three. Her season ended at Sectionals when she ran with an injury. Greenwood qualified girls for the sectionals, and of those, five went on to the Regionals. Qualifiers for the Regionals were Marianne Naberhaus in the 1600, Nan Bohlsen in the 400, and the 800 relay team consisting of Nan Bohlsen, Stacey Wood, Bridgett Foy, and Lora Williams.

Administrators lead way for schools

Things run smoothly when they are well organized at the top. Superintendent Earl Blemker and the School Board provided the leadership necessary for Greenwood Schools to complete another successful year. The biggest battle was the budget, as Indiana schools found themselves with less funding. But Greenwood managed not to cut any programs because of it.

The hottest item in Administrative news came when the State of Indiana increased the requirements for graduation, beginning in five years. With the state ranking 47th in the nation in SAT scores, the legislature took some action to make it harder to get a diploma.

Principal Harold Crawford found the year ran smoothly as students attended classes, worked in club activities, and supported their athletic teams.

(se) 3. Dr. Robert Brenton supervises curriculum. (se) 4. "Where's your pass?" inquires Principal Harold Crawford. (se) 5. Mr. Charles Mellencamp heads the guidance department. (se) 6. Mr. Leonard Scotten keeps a reign on discipline. (se) 7. Mrs. Marjorie Sweeney could always be found willing to help the students. (se) 8. Going back and forth to all Greenwood schools was tough for nurse Joan Salmon. (se) 9. Mrs. Ann Mitchell did a good job as high school nurse. (se) 10. Between the Wrestlerettes and counseling, Mrs. Janice McFerran was kept very busy. (se)

Congratulation Kirk Harris,
Its our joy to share this occasion with you. We are proud of all you've done so far. We are excited with the greater things you have in view. We have no expectations of you.
You can never disappoint
us.

Dad & Mom

Dan

As you work your way to success in life,
retain Gods love.

Keep and practice
your integrity and then "Go for it".

Love
Mom & Dad

Jamie,
Best wishes for a bright and happy future. I hope this last year has been one of adventure and learning and that you have gained much from it.

Remember the moments, always!!

JES

Work to fulfill you potential.
Do not give in to the easy way,
but take the less traveled path and make your own way. Never give up even when it looks like you can't win. From every trial in life we learn something to help us later.

Remember the moments!!

Robin,

Our world has been a lot nicer having you
the last 18 years to share
it - your sense of adventure, your dependability, and your quiet spirit, has made our family stronger -
So as, the Chimes of times ring out your life, always know, that you will be the Belle of our life -

Love,
Mom & Dad

LeAnn, Jim, Jeff, Klave,
Pam, Janet, Tom, Peter,
Bark, Renee, Chris, Ki,
Jane, Jamie, Julie, Phil, Laura -

For a job well done
and a bright future
filled with success -

My best wishes
and Thanks -

Follow your dreams!

Mom & Dad

Jeff,

This past year has been rough on both of us. It's hard trying to be both a mother and sister and not ruin our close friendship.

I love you very much, baby brother, and I hope you realize you can come to me anytime for help, advice, or just to talk.

I'm proud you're my brother and proud of all your accomplishments. Best of luck at I.U. and congratulations on your graduation.

Love,
Cindy

Beth -
Congratulations!
You finally made it + the best
is yet to come.
Mom + Dad

Dear Son, <sup>for Rick McLeod</sup>
We can only hope
the best for you as you start on the beginning of your adult life. You have brought us much enjoyment and we love you. Mom + Dad

Jack,
Thank you for
sharing with us

To our daughter Chris Howell,
Your achievements academically and athletically are only secondary to the love and joy
you have given us as a person.

To Jack Cummings
you are our first grandchild, on that November day we were so proud of you, but do you know, today we are more proud than ever.
Because of you yourself the love and respect you give us and everyone. on this <sup>May 22</sup> 1983 as you graduate, May God Bless you throughout the years ahead of you

Jeff Judd,

High school years can be a time of failures, frustrations, and problems. We've been proud of the way you've handled those years and we're proud of your accomplishments. Most of all,
we're proud that you're our son.

Our greatest hope for you is that you will fulfill the potential that we see in you.

Love,
Mom & Dad

Jane: Well, Jamie, it's all over with . . . our year as editors is finished.

Jamie: Did you remember to put the pictures with that last page?

Jane: I think so.

Jamie: Did you remember the captions and . . . ?

Jane: I think so.

Jamie: Did you remember to thank our great staff?

Jane: I think so.

Jamie: Did you tell them what a great job they did?

Jane: I think so.

Jamie: Do you think we did a good job?

Jane: I think so.

Jamie: Is that all you have to say?

Jane: No I'd like to say this:

Now that the hard work is over and we have the finished product, we can relax. We can heave a sigh of relief. There are things we would like to have done differently, but we did our best. All in all, we're pleased. On the pages of this book are some of our fondest memories of the 1982-83 school year. These are the moments Jamie and I will remember, and we hope that some of your memories are found on these pages. Enjoy and know that we cared and tried our best.

Jamie: Well said.
